

WE NOMINATE

Edgar Alden Dunham, Princeton University's able and hard-driving Director of Admission, who this week —together with his counterparts throughout the Ivy League and in colleges and universities across the land —is very much in the news as 1,000's upon 1,000's of high school seniors hear whether or not they have gained admission to the institutions of their choice. While "admission policy" is basically a faculty responsibility, upon the 33-year old Dunham, one of Princeton's 12 academic officers, has fallen the lion's (or Tiger's) share of the burden for directing an exhaustive winnowing process involving some 7,300 aspiring Princetonians, 5,213 of whom completed every detail of their applications for the Class of 1969.

Working with numbers of highly qualified applicants undreamed of a short quarter-century ago by American higher education, Dunham, in noting that this year's 12th-grade class is the largest in the nation's history, emphasizes that the rise in quality has been fully as impressive as the cresting "Baby Boom." Behind the ever-higher college test scores (for example, the average of this year's applicant group is higher than the average scores for any Princeton class enrolled prior to 1958) Dunham senses, and welcomes, "an exciting ferment in American education from kindergarten through the graduate school."

Dunham, keenly aware of the extreme complexity of a task involving decisions about human beings, the great majority of whom are equipped to handle college work, has come forward with a compelling definition of the "admission mission" of all universities. Our main business, Dunham states, "is the search for truth and the education of young men. We seek those students who have curiosity about the world around them, the ability and energy to investigate that world meaningfully, and the courage to evaluate and act upon their findings. Intellectual curiosity and ability, physical energy, and strength of character — these are qualities sought in every young man."

Indicative of the challenges and problems confronting Dunham and his associates, and admissions officers at other institutions of the front rank, is the fact that academic promise and solid achievement in secondary school are the hallmarks of the applicants as a group. Among this year's 7,300 preliminary Princeton applicants, who represented well over 2,000 different schools in this country and overseas, were 742 class presidents (or better than 1 in every 10!), 520 editors of school publications and 111 captains of track. The "Bill Bradley impact on Princeton" is reflected in applications received from 115 high school basketball captains.

Prior to returning to Princeton as successor to C. William Edwards in the summer of 1962, Dunham, a Phi Beta Kappa member of the Princeton Class of 1953 as well as a top-flight athlete, had completed an exacting 4-year apprenticeship as assistant to James B. Conant, President Emeritus of Harvard, in searching studies of American public education and had helped Conant write several highly significant volumes, including "The American High School Today" and "Slums and Suburbs." It was in 1961, several years after he had taught at Andover Academy and had earned his Master of Arts in Teaching at Harvard, that he received his doctorate in education from Columbia.

For his awareness of the pressures today bearing down upon students, school counselors and college admission officers; for seeking to raise ever higher the standards of college guidance; for his capacities for leadership in an area of over-riding import to American education; he is our nominee as

WORK IS "GREAT" Combined with School. "I'm working on this brass unit assembly," John Provenzano explains, "you know—drafting a cross section to show sizes and diameters..." At the moment, however, Johnny is taking a break from his Princeton High School history class to talk about his part in the new work-study program now in high gear between the high school and Princeton University.

Five days a week, six senior boys at Princeton High spend their mornings at history, English and general high school courses. In the afternoons, they fan out to their workbenches on campus for a four-hour stint that is unquestionably the happiest part of the school day for each one of the six.

This is a pilot program which started last October as an idea in the mind of Kenneth Michael, principal of Princeton High. Costs are shared equally by Princeton University, RCA, American Cyanamid, FMC and Western Electric.

Work and Play. The six boys receive $25 a week, free training at the hands of experts and 10 units of academic credit toward graduation. (Normally they would get five, but the State Department of Education has approved the 10-credit grant for their four hours of "laboratory" work each day.)

Johnny Provenzano, who lives at 42 Carnahan Place, started in machine-shop training at Forrester. "They try you out," he explains, "but machine-shop didn't appeal to me somehow, so they suggested drafting, and they taught me right from scratch. I never even knew how to hold a ruler before! It was a challenge — I like the idea of a new field, to find out what it's like. It's a golden opportunity."

Johnny was the lead in the recent high school production of "Bye, Bye Birdie," by the way) wants to stay on in his drafting job when he graduates in June.

WE CAN BOTH LEARN: Harold Lee (left) is the supervisor in the main machine shop of Palmer Physics Lab. His pupil is Robert Miller, one of six Princeton High School seniors in the school's pilot work-study program. But Mr. Lee, like the other supervising teachers, has been learning a lot himself by teaching these boys. More about the program in "This Is Princeton."

"Another thing I like is, they are all experts. The men who are teaching you, so they train you well. And they never push — they'd rather you take your time and work it out right."

"All these boys are learning a skilled trade," says J. Alfred Seitz, administrative assistant at the high school and co-ordinator for the program. "We hope they go on to further training, in night school, perhaps, and they may well be hired in June by the University, if there's a place for them."

College? Well . . . The six boys are in the high school's General Curriculum and none of them planned on college. "In fact," Mr. Seitz observes, "I'm sure some of them would have been drop-outs without this program."

Howard Ramberger, 861 Mt. Lucas Road, is learning engineering drawing at Forrester, having started out in the machine shop. He had never considered the possibility of college before, but now he has applied to an engineering school.

"We're quite happy with Howard's output," commented Frank Knorr, supervisor of the machine shop. "We put him on a job that another machinist would do, and we're getting a return in production from him."

Mr. Seitz believes, however, that one great thing about the program is that University shop men do not expect "mass production" from these boys.

Learning Comes First. "The men are interested in teaching. You don't get any of this. Well, I learned the hard way and he can, too," Mr. Seitz approves. "Each new assignment the boy gets is a new learning experience for him, learned under an expert without the need to mass produce."

Fred Dixon, Belle Mead, had no interest in being a machinist, but now a new world has been revealed to him. "I'd stay if they wanted me," Fred says, and although he only started in October he had been so absorbed by Christmas vacation that he worked full time all during the holiday.

"They can give Fred a plan and say 'Look, we need one like this' and he can make it," Mr. Seitz says. "Of course he's not a full-fledged machinist, I don't mean that, but he can handle the equipment."

Randy Still, 36 Clay Street, works in the student machine shop in Palmer Physics Labs. He is making, of all things, a cannon.

Some years ago, to give graduate students a chance to use shop machinery, Clark Smeltzer, the supervisor, bought a little toy cannon, drew up blueprints for it and assigned its construction to Princeton graduate students.

Randy is now building his own cannon. It takes careful work and long hours, and it will probably be worth about $100 in labor alone, according to Mr. Smeltzer. In the process of making it, Randy is learning how to use shop equipment, just as graduate students have done before him.

Expansion Next Year. "We are going to expand this program as time goes on," Mr. Seitz says. "Next year, we hope to have 12 boys, and perhaps we can take on some juniors as well. The University would like to start an apprentice program, and maybe they'll continue with these six boys after graduation. They have asked already for Fred Dixon and Robert Miller."

In Palmer's machine shop, young Miller, who lives in Belle Mead, finished all by himself a cable rack ordered by one of the Palmer labs. He worked from a rough sketch given to him by a machinist in the shop.

"The men here are really terrific," says Bob. "They show you how to do everything, and they're always ready to help. It's really great to work with them."

Peter Ramus, 554 Princeton-Kingston Road, goes out to Forrestal each afternoon to help construct intricate electronic devices which go into the Stellarator. Not long ago he worked on a high voltage supplier for an electrical switching system known as the Stellarator, which plays a vital part in supplying current for the Stellarator's magnetic pumping.

"We chose these boys more or less at random," says Mr. Seltz. "They were all General Course, non-college, but they came from a wide variety of backgrounds and we chose them that way on purpose. Naturally, we've had problems to overcome, but these are the same six we started out with, and I think you can say that the program so far, has been 100 percent successful."

TOWNSHIP HOME LOOTED
$2,000 In Guns Taken. Four rifles, three with telescopic sights, and five shotguns were among the items stolen Saturday from the home of Orrin J. Wenzel, 157 Shady Brook Lane. Mr. Wenzel placed the theft between 6:30 and midnight. He valued the guns at $2,000.

According to police, the thief entered by forcing a rear door. Inside, he looted the gun room and then ransacked bureau drawers and closets in two bedrooms.

Mr. Wenzel also listed as stolen a slot watch valued at $140; a $120 tape recorder; a movie camera and accessories; $128, assorted custom jewelry with an approximate value of $150 and $140 in traveler's checks. He added that personal checks, credit cards and insurance policies were also missing.

Mel Boyd of Shady Brook Estates last week reported malicious mischief damages totaling $710 to a new home being constructed at 91 Bertrand Drive. Bertrand Drive is located off Dodds Lane.

Damage included a cement mixer overturned with its fan belt and coil wires ripped out; broken chimney flues and damaged heating ducts. A wheelbarrow was also stolen.

Thirty-five four-by-eight-foot plywood sheets and a case of nails were taken between April 5 and 9 from a new home construction site on Turner Court, off Terhune Road.

Robert DeWitt, 82 Grover Avenue, associated with Queensdown Builders, 221 Nassau Street, made the report. He placed no value on the missing items.

From the Rockwood Dairy, University Place, thieves made off with $127.25 from a driver's metal depository box located in the main office. Police said a rear door was forced and then the door to the main office. The theft occurred over the weekend.

Another weekend theft resulted in the loss of a 15-foot canoe taken from along side the house of Carl Olson, 23 Broad-ripple Drive. The canoe was valued at $75 by its owners.

Silk Suits Taken. In the Borough, H. P. Clayton, Palmer Square, reported three silk suits with a combined value of $280 missing from a clothes rack located in the rear of the store. Mrs. Barbara Garrettson told police the suits were in place when the store closed last Wednesday, but were missing the next morning.

Sometime Friday night, a thief stole two tires and wheels from a parked car owned by Alfonso Robertiello, 39 Pine Street. Mr. Robertiello said his car had been parked on Fitz-Randolph Road.

In place of the two tires, the thief had placed two cinder blocks under the axle. Mr. Robertiello said the tires and wheels were worth $32.

TO ELECT OFFICERS

For Junior Chamber, The Princeton Junior Chamber of Commerce will elect officers for the coming year, Thursday at 8 in the Holiday Inn.

Harold Westgaard, outgoing president, will present plans to the organization for its participation in the Herald Tribune Fresh Air Fund. He will also outline plans for representation in the Princeton Hospital.

The Jaycees will vote on several proposed revisions to the group's by-laws and will hear a final report on its sixth annual art exhibit. In other business, members will vote on the decision to participate in the second annual Junior Miss Pageant and will complete plans to attend the New Jersey planning session on April 24 in Red Bank.

BOROUGH BOARD SPLITS

Over School Merger. Concord hovering over the proposed Borough-Township school merger vanished Saturday when Borough school board president Graham Rohrer announced six areas of dissent.

"These are my major concerns," he said at a press conference at his home. "I feel that the community has the right to know about them, to debate them and vote from its own wisdom in full possession of the facts of what merger would mean to the Borough."

A statement supporting the merger was issued in retort on Monday by the majority of the board. Signers were Mrs. Sarah K. Strayer, vice-president and longtime proponent of merger; John A. Buckland, Dr. E. Frederick Laschever, Robert A. Lively, Dr. Harvey D. Rothberg and Thomas A. Moore.

Mrs. Bernice Miller, president of the League of Women Voters during the lively conflict over municipal consolidation in 1953, abstained. The Rev. Dr. Elmer G. Homrighausen, a longtime member of the board, was out of town.

Merger Report. The board president's comments, the majority stated, "came as a complete surprise."

"Mr. Rohrer, as the community knows, participated in the public presentation of a preview of the Report in a community-wide PTA meeting on March 2. His signature is at the top of the list of the Borough and Township board members in the preface to the report—which states, among other things, that the boards had adopted the report 'without dissent.'"

"Mr. Rohrer had repeated opportunities to amend the chapter on the pros and cons of regionalization from the Borough point of view. Many of his suggestions were incorporated into the report."

A TON OF THANKSGIVING: After John K. Collins Jr. of Kendall Park recovered from a serious illness that nearly proved fatal, his parents gave St. Paul's Church a large bronze bell in thanks for his life. The three pictures above record its trip to the top of the 150-foot tower while St. Paul's schoolchildren, in care of Sister Mary Margaret, and passersby watch the event. Another bell, given in memory of Frank Katzenbach 3d, was also placed in the tower, bringing the total there to five. (Staff Photos)

"After two years of careful study and debate, we have pledged our names and reputations to the accuracy of the report and the logic of its findings. We urge citizens to get the report and read it. Five thousand copies are available at local bookstores, the public library, the town halls and at all schools."

Princeton Plan. "Regionalization," Mr. Rohrer said, "means the end of the Princeton Plan. It was the truly perfect solution to school integration. It eliminated all human consideration. . . It would become more unique when the John Witherspoon School is finished, because all children would be at one school."

He stated that the merged schools may well have the "spirit" of merger, "and many schools have this spirit, such as Englewood, but cannot accomplish true integration. But, in my opinion, since some one person or a group of people have the decision that a group of the community have to be bussed into an area (to achieve integration), there's bound to be a dividing line, so that some families may be bussed and some not."

"I want the community to understand that you cannot 'virtually' have the Princeton Plan, and if regionalization comes, we won't."

(Mr. Rohrer refers to the combined Borough-Township School Boards report on merger ("The Blue Book") which states that there are 114 Negro children in the Township and 137 in the Borough in kindergarten through 8th grade who would be distributed throughout the merged school system.)

"Interruptive." In citing the case against what he termed "interruptive elementary schooling," Mr. Rohrer stated that the Bailey Report on long-range school planning for the Township, "on page 18, recommends that progressions from school to school be kept to a minimum."

(The report says "The progression from a neighborhood elementary school to 6th grade in Community Park, to 7th and 8th grades in Valley Road School, to High School in 9th, involves too many schools in a short time. These rapid changes are difficult for many children, and they make it nearly impossible for principals, teachers and guidance counsellors to know the children well. . .")

"This point was adopted by the Township School Board," Mr. Rohrer continued, "Yet the present plan ignores that and compounds it. . . An elementary school child can go to three or four different schools by . . . Continued on Page 4"

9th grade. The Borough is in the strong position of improving its situation by eliminating one of its schools so that it has an even more ideal situation through the John Witherspoon School."

College-Bound. Mr. Rohrer objects to the "obvious and stated emphasis on the college-bound group" in the merger plan. "Ours is a public education job, a job to educate all of the children. The students needing the most attention throughout the state and country are the large middle group and the group at the other end of the scale." He objected to what he termed "over-emphasis of the upper echelon."

Teaching Machine. "With the completion of the John Witherspoon School," Mr. Rohrer said, "The Borough facilities will be far superior to the Township's. I am talking about the school as a teaching machine." He also referred to the Bailey Report's recommendation No. 19 which cites the Township's need for music and art rooms, gymnasiums in each school.

"We will have a separate gymnasium, cafeteria and auditorium. They don't have these in the Township." He added that the new school would also have special rooms for remedial work, art, etc.

Split Board. Under the topic of regionalization with or without municipal consolidation, Mr. Rohrer said, "In our report and in our conversations there's the idea that the optimum would be accomplished under municipal consolidation." Until this comes about, he said, "the schools would be operated indefinitely under a split board... initially five from the Borough and four from the Township, eventually the reverse."

"Many of our civic leaders feel that school merger at this time would prejudice municipal consolidation... there would be no real reason to do it."

He recalled that at the December 1963 sessions with the Township over the purchase of Township land for the John Witherspoon School the planning board knocked down all alternative sub division plans.

"Every PTA in the Township passed a resolution urging the Township to deny us the school. . . . 425 Township citizens signed a petition . . . the present Township mayor was one of two who voted against us. I asked why, was it in the best interests or was it political? As long as these communities are separate, they are separate for a reason. The people haven't put them together."

(The petition referred to concerns, essentially the Westminster Choir College stand, adamant at the time, to close off Franklin Avenue. The petitioners objected.)

Atmosphere. The atmosphere of merger, according to Mr. Rohrer, is not favorable. "I am sure this can be understood by anybody who has ever been in business. Mergers are very complicated, ticklish to accomplish. You see an instance of this in the Country Day Schools. The mood has to be

A Clear Choice

*I'd rather have A gentle breeze

The tail ends of the winds that ripped the Midwest reached these parts Monday, producing gusts up to 50 mph. They also brought widely varying temperatures which ranged from near 70 down to the high 30's.

Spring will continue along its frequently changing course in the next few days, bringing showers Thursday night and Friday. Hopes are bright, however, for a pleasant, warm Easter weekend.

right; the spirit has to be right, to make a merger work, and the benefits to each party have to be essentially equal.

"The Borough goes into this merger with a great deal more than the Township... because all of the major objectives of the Township, the Borough already has, I think, therefore, it has to be considered a program of acquisition."

"The threat of a Township pullout is a potentially dangerous basis for a merger."

He noted that "You can't go and buy a high school like you buy a car," citing that it would cost 50% more to build a Township high school; that it would be under the minimum of 1,000 students, and that there would be a long period of faculty adjustments.

Personal Opinion. Mr. Rohrer said that his comments came as a board member of nine years' standing, not as board president. He noted that the Borough board has not passed a resolution endorsing merger at a public meeting, although it has publicly endorsed a referendum on the issue.

He stated in defense of the apparent ambiguity of his dissent that he had prefaced his remarks at the public meeting held March 2 by the two school boards that there are "considerations" against merger. He said that as board president, he was bound to go along with the majority opinion of his school board, and thus signed the pro-merger report.

"But I feel a moral obligation to talk about these things because there is a lot of confusion in a lot of areas in the Borough, and a lot of confusion on these various points."

A public meeting with Borough residents is being arranged for late April or early May. The public referendum, Mr. Rohrer stated, will be held in early October, the exact date to be set by the State Commissioner of Education. As the school budgets are already made up for the year 1965-66, an earlier referendum would not be feasible, he said.

TO IMPROVE DISPOSAL $318,000 for Incinerator, Borough Council approved on a first reading Tuesday night an ordinance to improve the municipality's incinerator system. If the measure is adopted at the next meeting, $318,000 will be spent on improvements. The expenditure would be

SOME FAMILIES PLAY TOGETHER ... AND STAY TOGETHER!

Does owning a swimming pool produce a tighter-knit family? Definitely, said pool owners across the country in a recent nationwide poll. Here are the reasons they gave for owning a pool:

1. It keeps the family together. Children want to stay home; teenagers entertain at home.
2. It's safe. Youngsters learn to swim quickly. Keeps entire family off highways on weekends and holidays.
3. It's healthy. Swimming is one of the finest forms of exercise known. Trims weight; gives that healthy, toned look.
4. It's fun. No more crowded beaches or pools.
5. It's convenient. Swimming every day of the season.

Why don't you investigate the wonderful world of swimming. Your family will never forget you for it.

SYLVAN... THE POOL FOR ALL SEASONS

Swimming pools come in a wide range of quality. Sylvan Pools are designed and engineered to withstand the severe winter conditions found in the Northeast; in fact, you can ice skate on any Sylvan Pool.

Sylvan builds 1,000 pools a year, more than 4 times as many as this area's next largest builder. Sylvan employs 200 skilled craftsmen on a year-round basis, men who average more than 8 years with Sylvan experience. Sylvan uses no subcontractors; thus, your guarantee is assured by one responsible, self-contained, local company.

When you buy a Sylvan Pool you are assured of quality, integrity and 18 years experience. Sylvan has produced quality pools continually and has 4 Gold Medal awards to prove it.

The Sylvan Plan: Everything in One Package, Payable Monthly!
If you can afford to buy an automobile you can afford a pool because a Sylvan Pool, in many cases, costs less than the price of a new car (and there's less maintenance, no depreciation—it adds to your property value).

ARE YOU DISSATISFIED WITH CHILDREN'S FILMS?

How many times have you tried to make do with a "standard" film for your children? NO LONGER — for the five films described below were made ESPECIALLY for children and will enrich a child's own experience. Each has its own fable, saga, or folk tale, and will introduce your children to other ways of life. These films have been carefully selected so that children will be "at home" in their new world of the cinema. Although the films will be shown in their original languages, we must stress that there will be NO LANGUAGE PROBLEMS, since there is so little dialogue in each one.

SCHEDULE OF FILM SHOWINGS:

(Each film is designed for ages 5-12, and is a live action picture, not a cartoon. Each feature will be accompanied by a prize-winning short, and will be introduced by a guest narrator who will tell the story in advance)

News Of The THEATRES

FREE CHOCOLATE
Eggs on the House. Chocolate Easter eggs, the good free kind, will be distributed to young McCarter audiences at all of the special dance, music, film and theatre events lined up for Easter week, starting Saturday with the two performances (11 a.m. and 3 p.m.) of Nelle Fisher's "The Littlest Circus."

Designed for children in kindergarten through fourth grades, "The Littlest Circus" tells, in dance-music-pantomime (no words, anywhere) about a little traveling circus too poor to buy expensive animals and performers. Poverty leads to invention and the circus performers decide to play all the parts themselves: lions, jugglers, acrobats, tight-rope walkers, magicians, seals — well, the works.

On Monday, McCarter's cinema program for the young will begin with two showings (11 and 3 p.m.) of "The Boy and the Blind Bird," a Russian film which describes the efforts of a fisherman's boy to put his blind pelican under the care of a great eye specialist in Moscow. There is little dialogue, and the story will be told in advance anyway, by a guest narrator.

Other films from the United States, Poland, Czechoslovakia, France and Japan will be shown Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 22, 23 and 24. A complete schedule is available at the McCarter box-office.

The Story Dancers of India will appear from the wings on Friday, April 23, at 3 p.m. to present "The Travels of Krishna," a journey in dance for children from 4 to 16.

SEANCE ON A WET AFTERNOON

I'M A CLOWN, THATS WHO: "The Littlest Circus" may not have the littlest clowns, but it certainly has the clowniest clowns, if this one is any sample. She (he?) will appear with the rest of the sawdust crowd at McCarter this Saturday.

LAST CALL:
For Repertory. The last two weeks for McCarter's spring repertory company will feature performances of the two biggest spring hits, Moliere's "School for Wives" and Chekhov's "The Marriage Proposal" on a double bill and Aristophanes' "The Birds." Pirandello's "As You Desire Me," will also be given.
Thursday at 7:30, the company will give the Chekhov-Moliere double bill, followed on Saturday at 8:30 by "The Birds." The theatre will be closed on Good Friday.
On Thursday, April 22, the company will present "As You Desire Me," for the last time. Saturday, April 24, at 8:30, will be the final evening performance of "The Birds." A matinee of the Aristophanes comedy will be given Sunday, April 25 at 3.

THE LAST OF POOR DAD:
Community Players. "Oh Day, Poor Dad, Mamma's Hung You in the Closet and I'm Feelin' so Sad" will have its last performances Friday and Saturday at Murray theatre at 9.

In the Community Players' spring presentation are Mildred Wasserman as Mme. Rosette; Tom Queenan as Jonathan; Cynthia Grauman as Rosalie and Peter McKinney as Commodore Roseabow.
Tickets may be purchased at Male's Book Shop, 203 Nassau or at the box-office.

PROGRAM ANNOUNCED
(And Date Changed.) Originally scheduled for Friday, April 30, the appearance in McCarter of the American Ballet Theatre has been changed to Wednesday, April 28. Curtain will be at 8:30.

For its McCarter engagement, the company of 100 dancers will present two new works given in premiere during the Ballet Theatre's four-week engagement at Lincoln Center.

IT'S NEW To Us

A NEW DOOR OPENS

Clayton's in New Dress. Lightness, brightness, a new sparkle characterize Clayton's these days, as the half-century-old store opens its doors to a second 50 years with about a million more square feet of space, and a couple of hundred gallons of fresh paint.

Inventory has been expanded, too, as you will realize when you examine the lovely Hong Kong silks in the $35-and-up price range. Feel the texture of the Tussah, or watch the light shimmer from a Honan. You might like the ivory silk (lined and exquisitely sewn) with its narrow piping of turquoise, or the navy with its trim of powder.

One silk is reversible, offering you raspberry or pink with the opposite for trim. It has a wide collar edged with contrast and a contrasting shoe-string belt. A bright — well, we're tempted to say "jade blue," is a lovely year-round color.

Liberty, in linen or lawn print, has always been a Clayton favorite (in yard goods, too), and you'll love this year's pink and green flowered print jacket dress in linen and the casual with its cool U-neckline.

Want to balance your check book? Look at this two-piece arnel seersucker, $9.95, with a straight skirt and a bow at the point of a low sailor collar. It's a half-size, too.

For $13, you may have a drip-dry ticking dress with a wide collar, brass buttons and sash. Madras or India print shifts are $6.95 and $8.95.

For the first time, Clayton's now has junior sizes 5-15 in considerable depth. For example: a Country Miss in that powder puff muslin that looks like Liberty Lawn (this is by the yard, too, if you want to make something to match), and a navy tattersall crossed with red in a rayon-flax mixture.

Shapley's flowered shorts match exactly the classic shapley blouse. That new cable sweater is Hong Kong all right, but only $14.95 because it's hand-loomed but not hand-knit. Colors!

Real Irish linen shorts are only $8. One of them is a superb rich cherry red. And there's a royal, natural and gold, too. Shorts are sized up to 18, by the way, and there are even some 8's.

Bags by Coblenz are a luxury investment. For $27.50, you may have a navy or black calf bag that will last you for years. There's a beige tapestry bag embroidered on jade and matched with bone leather.

Tuck inside a Skandia print handkerchief with a flower or fruit print that's sheer delight. Other handkerchiefs have appliques or embroideries of entire market-baskets: carrots, peas in a pod, strawberries... and one printed handkerchief has an artichoke, corn on the cob, and an apple in blue, green and pink, Northern spy?

Lingerie is colorful these days at Clayton's. Girdles are powder "buff" — that is, flesh colored net, and waist-length spring gowns are pale pink with little lace ruffles on the bosom breaking into long, narrow ribbon streamers.

Housekeepers will brighten the spring table with plastic or shag mats, and new napkins of homespun with fringed edges and dozens of colors. Flowered or fruity napkins are eye openers on any breakfast table.

YOUR SERVE

Prefer Lacrosse? In a community where the kids get out on the front lawn to play lacrosse and there are more tennis racquets than television sets, the University Store's sporting goods department is a natural meeting place on a spring afternoon.

Bacharach Rasin is the lacrosse house, and the sticks you buy at the U. Store from this firm have been especially made, by hand, by a tribe of Indians in Canada. No fussing around with mass production.

Sticks start at $10.25 for girls' and range upward to $22.50 for the best men's sticks. Balls, gloves, helmets, arm and shoulder guards, too, of course.

But getting back to tennis. The University tennis coach tells his team to buy Jack Kramer racquets — $20.50 for a strong, dependable frame. The U. Store says that Davis' "Imperial" at the same price is just as good. Take your pick.

You can start at $7.99, and pay up to $25, of course, choosing from Wilson, MacGregor, Bancroft... The U. Store will string your racquet, if you allow two or three days.

An Egg for Nothing

If you go to Howe's Nursery in Pennington these fine pre-Easter days, you'll get a free chocolate Easter egg. And you don't have to buy flowers or plants to get one, either.

This is not an egg-plant, as you might think from the nature of the Howe establishment, but a really true chocolate Easter egg hatched by goodness knows who.

You know where they keep these free Easter eggs, don't you? In with the candy tuft and the sweet William.

Pressureless tennis balls from the English firm, Slazenger, the Scandinavian Tretorn or just plain Dunlop will give you a winning game every time. (Got your Aussie tennis exp. Looks like a white cotton sweater to us — they won't let you on the court without one.)

If you're a golfer, the U. Store can special-order for you the new MacGregor clubs that are divided into categories according to your score. MacGregor has a "next year" program so that next year, when you're in the low 80's, you can turn in the clubs you've got now, and so on, all the way to Augusta.

TRILLIUM?

Or Sweet William? Stopping at Howe's Nursery in Pennington over the weekend to pick up a pink saucer magnolia, we noticed for the first time — at least, we've never noticed them at Howe's before — a table of wild flowers.

MUSIC In Princeton

BAND TO PLAY
 For Children. The boys in the Princeton University Band had such a great time last year when they played for Princeton children that they've asked again whether they could do it again.
 A "Young People's Band Concert" will be given by the Princeton University Band on Tuesday, April 27, at 3:30 in McCarter under the sponsorship of the Children's Entertainments of the Borough Parent-Teacher Association.
 Tickets, at 50 cents each, may be bought at McCarter or from Mrs. A.A. Austen, 10
 Princeton Avenue, 924-5772.

Among the band's selections will be "Trumpet and Drum" by Lang and "Procession of Nobles" by Rimsky-Korsakoff.
 The band is trying to raise money to buy a hearse which will be used to transport instruments to and from concerts and proceeds from the children's concert will be used toward this purpose.
 It is the University's concert band that will play. The University also has a march-

MUSICAL DROLLETS: Dick Van Dyke and Julie Andrews in a scene from "Mary Poppins," a delightful version of P.L. Travers's stories of the magic-making governess, now at the Playhouse.

CHAMBER GROUP TO PLAY For Handel Opera. When Handel's opera, "Imenico" is produced on the McCarter stage by the theatre and the Princeton Symphony Orchestra, the Princeton Chamber Orchestra will be in the pit under the baton of J. Merrill Knapp.

The single performance of Handel's rarely performed work will be given Monday, May 3, at 8:30 with a cast of singers headed by Bethany Beardslee and Janice Harsan-yi.

Costumes will be designed by Richard Anderson, regular designer for McCarter, and the production itself will be fashioned by Stevens McClave.
 Mark Healy will direct. Theatre-goers and music lovers will recall that Mr. Healy directed Benjamin Britten's opera, "A Midsummer Night's Dream" at the New York City Center.

STRINGS WILL PLAY
 In Two Free Concerts. A string quartet and a chamber music group will present two free concerts within the next few weeks under the sponsorship of the Unitarian Church.
 They will be held at the church.

The first, a chamber music concert, will be given Wednesday, April 21 at 8:30. A group consisting of George M. Jones, clarinetist; Helen Teschner Tas and Edith M. Colton, violinists; Murray Labman, violist; Martha Gerstenberger, cellist and Arlene Jones, pianist, will perform.

ADVENTURE FILM: Charlton Heston plays the title role and Senta Berger the widow of a Mexican doctor in "Major Dundee," now at the Prince.

is one of the few privy to Mary Poppins' supernatural powers. He does a raffish rooftop ballet, with a chorus of chimney sweeps.

The show is full of music—14 songs in all. The dialogue is fresh and wholesome; the settings are imaginative. And Julie Andrews is captivating in the title role.

PRINCE

Major Dundee (now playing) is a towering cavalry-and-Indians action film. It is the story of the waning days of the Civil War as they were fought and lived, between remnants of Union and Confederate forces, and an Apache chief named Sierra Charriba.

It opens on a scene of death where the Apaches have massacred a patrol squad of the 3rd U. S. Cavalry. This sets the theme of war's constant and inevitable cost in lives. Charlton Heston is the hard-bitten Major Dundee of the Union Army who swears revenge on the Apache chief. Irish actor Richard Harris is the Confederate captain who is second in command of the expedition to Mexico, where the Apache is hiding. Once the mission is completed, the captain's goal is to kill the major.

This is a terrific chase melodrama. There is always something happening on the screen—brawling, intrigue, romance, guerilla warfare with bits of comic relief. Charlton Heston turns in a solid performance, and the rest of the cast is commendable.

HITCHCOCK CLOSING

With "Northwest," The final Hitchcock film in McCarter's Classic Film Series will be "North by Northwest," to be shown Tuesday at 8.

"Vertigo" has been rescheduled for Friday, June 4, at 8. It was supposed to have been shown last Tuesday, but was postponed because the print received by McCarter was damaged.

In "North by Northwest," Cary Grant plays a Madison Avenue ad man whose way of life—in fact, whose life itself—is threatened by homicidal foreign agents, chiefly by James Mason, and by a gorgeous, but untrustworthy female, Eve Marie Saint.

BRECHT, BY INTINE

"A Man's A Man," Bertolt Brecht's 1925 drama, "A Man's A Man," will be revived by Theatre Intime in a presentation to open Friday, April 23, in Murray Theatre, with subsequent performances on April 24 and on Friday and Saturday, April 30 and May 1, and May 7 and 8. Curtain time is 8:30.

Brecht, in this play, condemns both the cruelty and inhumanity of war and the equally great evil of those who do not oppose evil in others.

Robert Bridges will direct, drawing on his experience with the San Francisco Actor's Workshop, the San Diego Shakespeare Festival and the Colorado Shakespeare Festival, as well as his work with McCarter.

Ed Overtree, who played Brother Sebastian in this year's Triangle Show, will assume the

My Sister Debbie
Leading roles in "Wonderful Town," the P. J. & B. spring musical adapted from the book, "My Sister Eileen," will be played by Anne Sheldon and Debbie Truxal.
Mrs. Sheldon will be Ruth and Miss Truxal will be Eileen, the two sisters from Ohio who take over New York to music by Leonard Bernstein and lyrics by Comden Green. The 1953 hit will have five performances at McCarter starting Thursday, May 13, with matinees Saturday and Sunday, May 13 and 16.
Anne Sheldon appeared as Miss Adelaide in P. J. & B's "Guys and Dolls" in 1961 and as Rena Sweeney in 1962's "Anything Goes." Miss Truxal made her P.J. & B. debut last year as Magnolia in "Showboat."

used to install a storage pit which would permit incineration at convenient hours, a crane to feed refuse to the incinerators and an additional chimney that would allow for an increase in furnace capacity. The ordinance will be open to public discussion on May 11.
It was pointed out that incineration on maximum disposal days has increased from about 30 tons to 50 for the Borough, Township and University over the past decade. In the month of March, 925 tons of refuse were burned in the current incineration system and the present disposal unit is considered inadequate.

Council also approved on first readings an ordinance for a $48,000 appropriation for property acquisition on Spring Street for proposed parking improvements; a police residency bill which would permit members of the Borough force to live outside the municipality; and a library agreement amendment which would permit the Borough and Township to divide the interest and capital costs of the proposed joint library as operating expenses.
In other action, Council approved Mayor Patterson's appointment of J. Robert Hillier to replace Anton J. Miller on the Building Board of Appeals. It also accepted the recommendation of the Recreation Commission to retain the services of Prof. Milton Gabrielson, a teacher of health education at New York University, for advice on the construction of the proposed Route 206 recreation project. Professor Gabrielson will provide specific advice as well as a breakdown of cost figures on various aspects of the project.

A resolution was adopted restricting parking on the south side of Nassau Street, between Charlton Street and Murray Place. Parking will be prohibited anytime between Murray and Olden and will be prohibited from 8 to 9 a.m. and from 3 to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday, with the exception of holidays, between Olden and Charlton.

Mayor and Council also adopted a resolution which would associate the municipal government with a Federal and State plan for the purchase of the 52-acre Harrop property. Under the arrangement, the State will pay for 50 percent of the cost, the Federal government will finance 30 percent of the purchase and the Borough and Township will each pay 10 percent of the remaining expenditure.

Council tabled temporarily any action on a petition signed by some 40 youngsters in the Harriot Drive area requesting the partial closing of the road to traffic to permit the street to be used for skate board "surfing." Mayor Patterson pointed out that this form of recreation may be considered unhealthy and the precedent of closing a road to traffic to allow for the use of the boards could be established if Council were to approve the request.

The petitioners requested that the street be closed to traffic from 3 p.m. until dark on weekdays and all day on weekends. It was also pointed out in tabling the request that adult residents of the area did not indicate approval of closing the street. Council will wait to hear the recommendation of the recreation department.

It was also disclosed that at present Council has plans to widen Elm Road but not to construct a bicycle path. Affecting possible future construction of a path will be the decision by the Princeton Day Schools whether or not to permit students to ride bicycles to school.

THREE ARE FINED

For Speeding. Three Princeton area drivers charged with speeding were among those fined Monday by Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tanis Jr.

They are Louis C. Tammara, 29, 4 Station Drive, Princeton Junction, who was fined $35;

TO SEEK THIRD TERM: Henry S. Patterson will run for a third term as mayor of Princeton Borough. He will have as his running mates on the Republican ticket Councilmen William H. Walker Jr. and Alfred E. Sorenson.

William S. Bonham, 49, 288 Mt. Lucas Road, $24; and John L. Schenck, 19, Southfield Road, Cranbury $35. In addition, Mr. Schenck's license was revoked 30 days.

For leaving the scene of an accident, Walter D. Cuppies, 44, 37 Moran Avenue, paid $30. Fines of $15 were levied against Clement C. Moore, 20, Quaker Road, for careless driving, and Gilett G. Griffin, 36, 481 Stockton Street, for passing in an intersection.

Question of the Week

Question: Is there a day in your life you would like to relive?

Where asked: Around town.

Robert Arnberger, Hlibben Apartments, Princeton High senior: The day my father and I went fishing in the Red River canyon back home in New Mexico. We had tremendous luck. We each got four or five rainbow trout between 15 and 19 inches long, and it wasn't too long before we both had our limit of 12.

Steve Wilkinson, Harlingen, Princeton High senior: There are several days but one in particular during a vacation at Fair View Lake. I never got up all day. There was a bed and a TV set on the porch and I could fish all day without even having to get up. When you don't have to get up but just lie in bed all day and fish and watch TV—that's livin'!

Mrs. Harold McCann, 221-C Halsey Street, secretary: The day my husband graduated from college. When he gets his Ph.D. that's really going to be a memorable day!

Mrs. Lois Mirkin, 41 Spring Street, housewife: No, I'd like to relive periods of my life and do it differently because whenever you look back, you can see things you could have done much better. Hindsight is better than foresight.

Thomas J. Riley, Cranbury, sales assistant: The day I got married.

Lou Parrillo, Trenton, electrical engineer for RCA Labs: There are a few but the day I graduated from college would be the main one.

Laraine LaPlaca, 302 Nassau Street, 8th grader, St. Paul's: I'd like to relive a night. The night I entertained at a Cranbury dance. I sang a lot of rock and roll songs with my band—Stevie Dart and the Dartsmen.

Eileen Romeo, 69 Erdman Avenue, 8th grader, St. Paul's: The days I spend at the beach with my cousins.

Boruch Brody, 21 Olden Street, graduate student, philosophy: Yes, the day I got engaged.

Caleb Bower, Cherry Valley Road, engineering aid and student at Drexel Institute of Technology: One weekend I spent in Big Sur National Park in California. It was fabulous.

Sterling Hansen, 25 Green Street, janitor: I'd like to relive them all.

Mrs. Frederick Petke, 127 Westerly Road, housewife: I really think my wedding was the happiest day for me and the one I would most want to relive.

Jim McKee, 183 Jefferson Road and Billy Meagher, Trenton, 6th graders St. Paul's: The day we went to New York on our class trip.

Mrs. Joan Schmidt, New Brunswick, copy writer for Van Nostrand: The day I arrived in Europe.

Johanna Snickers, Princeton: Since I enjoy every day I live, it is difficult for me to say which one I would like to relive and, therefore, I would like to relive every day.

Marijke Schogt, Princeton: No. There are a lot of times that are very nice but what sense does it make to go back?

Tom Hughes, Skillman, Princeton High sophomore: The day last summer that I made a fantastic Willie Mays catch—the same day that Mays stole home to tie the American League in the All-Star game.

Jack Branham, 18 N. Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell, Princeton High sophomore: The day I was elected treasurer of the school's Athletic Association.

Johnnie DeVonn, 78 Clay Street, Princeton High senior: Yes, the night we sang in a night club in Bayonne.

Dean Sutton, 450 Terhune Road, Princeton High sophomore: I think the day I bowled 254. I would like to relive that.

Ronnie Jameson, 210 Varsity Avenue, Penns Neck, Princeton High junior: Yes, today. I would like to have had a picture of my beautiful finish in the half-mile.

John Hannon, Hopewell, editor, Van Nostrand: Considering the importance of what happened, I probably would have to select the day I was married. One's wedding day certainly brings a great change in one's former way of living. A second choice would be the day of the birth of our first child which, again, brings a great change in one's life.

Mrs. Robert Allen, 54-A College Road, teacher: The day I graduated from high school.

Rolf Klauer, Trenton, char-artist for Gallup & Robinson: No, there's none, at the moment, that I can think of that I would care to relive.

Alfred Perna, 19, 109 Mountain Avenue, was charged with taking on and discharging passengers other than at the curb. He pleaded guilty and was fined $15. Ord Elliott, 20, Little Hall, Princeton University, paid $10 for improper display of plates.

In criminal court, Martin Buiting, 31, Kingston Hotel, Kingston, was fined $15 for using loud and indecent language. He was accused of shouting obscenities at Sgt. Robert Anderson, the complainant, from a passing car. He pleaded guilty.

In the only case involving a Princeton resident, Township Magistrate Glenn B. Miller Jr. last week fined Douglas Robertson, 19, 93 MacLean Circle, $25 as an unlicensed driver.

Robert A. Weston, 21, Woodville Road, Hopewell, has had his license suspended for one month, under the state's Point System.

WELCOME TO ALL

Foreign Student Guests. Twenty-five students from 16 countries of the world will be the guests of 25 seniors and juniors of Central High, Hopewell, for an "International Week-end" from Thursday, April 29 to Sunday, May 2.

Guests are American Field Service students who are in various New Jersey communities during the academic year. Central High's AFS student is Waltraud Seidelmaier of Austria, who is spending her senior year with Dr. and Mrs. Bryant M. Wedge of Hopewell.

The annual AFS dinner will be held at 7 Thursday in the high school cafeteria with the 25 guests in native costume

The AFS Weekend Score: Pennington 1, Newark 0

Behind Pennington's "International Week-end" for AFS students is a sturdy little story of high community spirit and effort.

These all-New Jersey gatherings are traditionally held in Newark, with a large industrial corporation as host. But this year, Central High boys and girls determined to be hosts themselves, and succeeded, with adult leverage, in prying the invitation away from Newark.

Parents on the AFS Committee each "bought" for $5, an hour's worth of bus rental time so that all AFS students could come to Pennington together, with their guitars, costumes and gear, and not have to be transported in separate cars. The bus will also be used for the area tour on Saturday.

To meet expenses, boys and girls on Central High's AFS committee sold "bonds" at 50 cents each, to anybody in Pennington rash enough to carry a wallet.

Because, in theory, the AFS "week-end" passes to various communities in turn, it will be several years before Pennington is eligible again to serve as host.

seated at tables in the themes of their native lands.

On Friday, the guests will go to Central High, presenting a program of entertainment and participating in panel discussions with Hopewell high school students on matters of world concern.

On Saturday, the AFSers and their teen-age hosts will take a bus tour of the area, and on Saturday night they will attend an all-school dance in the grammar school auditorium. Sunday will be devoted to church services and mid-day dinner, and early in the afternoon, the host families will drive the students back to their New Jersey "families."

Members of the high school committee for the week-end are Frances Verheyest, Susan Wyks, JoAnn Whitman, Beverly Bell, Judy Hellyer, Nancy Windham, Maureen Foy, Kristen Wedge, Virginia Durr, Janet Stevenson, Carol Yost and Mary McCall. James Byrnes of the faculty and Mrs. Robert E. Cyphers Jr. are adult co-chairman. Mrs. Joseph Rein is dinner co-ordinator.

HIRE POOL CONSULTANTS

To Study Area, Should Community Gardens have a luxury indoor-outdoor, year-round pool warmed by infra-red heat, or a Spartan pool so austere that not even dressing rooms or benches are provided?

These questions — and many more — will be answered by Dr. Milton Gabrielson and Milton Costello, swimming pool consultants who have been retained by the Joint Recreation Board for $3,650 to make a three-month-long "feasibility study" of the where, what, how big and how much of Princeton's public swimming pool.

The decision to retain the consultants was made Monday at the Board's monthly meeting.

In a previous conference with the Board, the two consultants had suggested a 50-meter pool with a three-quarter dome of plastic panels curving over the pool at a height of 30 feet. In summer, eight-foot panels at the bottom would be removed for air circulation. The entire top, except for the curved dome area, would be open year round, providing fresh air and sun.

Infra-red heat, bouncing off the sides and floor, would heat the pool, and rain or snow falling through the open top into the pool would be heated by the infra rays and the snow changed to warm rainwater by the time it reached the pool.

This Roman bath costs about $460,000, complete with bath house and wading pool, and might cost each family $30-$50 a year.

No Infra-Red. In contrast, Mrs. Richard Schoch told a about a pool she and R. Donald Barr, Recreation Director, had examined in Willingboro.

"You swim and go home!" Mrs. Schoch laughed, describing a pool with no dressing rooms (only toilets), a concrete apron, no chairs or benches, with food, baby bottles, picknickings and so on, strictly forbidden. Cost of membership: $9.70 per family a year.

Robert Sinkler joined Mrs. Schoch in pointing out that Princeton would unquestionably want something between these two extremes. In particular, they referred to the membership fee, and Mrs.

Schoch said that fees would be part of the Gabrielson-Costello study.

"I think an indoor pool should be part of the school system," Mr. Barr commented. "It's the school's job to provide swimming instruction, and a place for competitive meets."

Mr. Barr also said that Frank Quinby, Township engineer, would have topographical studies of the area ready for Gabrielson-Costello by May 1.

Playgrounds? Recreation Board meetings, held in the social room of the high school, are conducted, town-meeting fashion, with an extreme of informality not often found in municipal meetings. Several persons challenged the Board on pre-school playground space, especially for children living around Birch Avenue.

adjacent to Community Gardens.

Mr. Barr told these parents that, following discussions with Township Administrator Joseph R. Nini and school superintendent, John McKenna, he was ready to say that the only possible pre-school play area (because of shade) was on school board land near the paved basketball courts.

Mrs. Schoch, who serves on both Education and Recreation Boards, said with a laugh, "Considering the fact that Community Park School is on land once dedicated to community recreation, I don't think there's much doubt that the school board will allow the preschool playground."

"As a matter of history," said Mrs. Simeon Hutter, of the Recreation Board, "in the early days, Negro families didn't want a neighborhood playground here because it would be a segregated one!" And she shrugged and smiled.

Mrs. Hasler Whitney, a member of the audience, protested the Community Gardens parking lot near Birch Avenue as a hazard for children on Birch who want to go to Community Gardens, and as a detrimental factor in a residential neighborhood.

Teen activities, on a year-round basis, will be discussed Tuesday at the first meeting of a new advisory committee on teen activities. Members are Mr. and Mrs. David Hapgood, Jack Rinalover, William Humes, Howard Fox, Theodore Kennedy, Robert Sinkler and Mrs. Neal O'Connor.

CAR HITS DIVIDER

As Police Give Chase. A high speed chase between a Borough patrol car and a fleeing convertible ended abruptly a few minutes before 1 Sunday morning, when the car struck the medial strip on Route 1 at the Penns Neck Circle and flipped on to the grass. The driver and a passenger were hurt.

Admitted to Princeton Hospital were Gilbert Fisher, 21, 219 Birch Avenue, the driver, who received head injuries and needed eight sutures to close a cut over his right eye, and Fred L. Wilson, 31, 100 1/2 Leigh Avenue. Mr. Wilson received severe back injuries. Both he and Mr. Fisher were reported to be in fair condition. A second passenger, Edward Bryant, 25, 290 Witherspoon St., escaped with minor injuries.

The chase began when Sgt. James Kopliner and Ptl. Russell Shangle spotted the Fisher auto speeding on Washington Road. During the ensuing chase, police reported that Fisher's car reached speeds of 65 miles per hour before it continued straight at the circle and slammed into the dividing strip.

Borough police charged Mr. Fisher with trying to evade apprehension. Additional charges of reckless driving and unlicensed driver were lodged by the State Police.

Total Loss. A 1953 Mercedes Benz was adjudged a total loss after it flipped over on its roof, following a single car mishap on Nassau Street, 1:30 Sunday morning.

The driver, Richard G. Miller, 21, 238 Washington Road, told police that an unknown car, pulling out of a parking spot, forced him to turn sharply to the left as he was driving near Chestnut. In so doing, he lost control of his car. Mr. Miller added. He received a bruised knee and a headache. Police made no charges.

A second single car crash in the Borough ended in contusions of the hand and knee and a careless driving summons for its driver, Robert L. Thomas, 27, 256 Cold Soil Road. The incident took place at 3:49 a.m. Saturday at the intersection of Hodge Road and Lilac Lane.

Mr. Thomas told police he fell asleep. His small foreign car crossed into the opposite lane, mounted the curb, hit a street sign and then struck a tree, damaging its entire front end. In all, it traveled 51 feet after hitting the curb, police said.

Township police also reported two single car accidents last week.

Saturday evening, W. Shellman Morse, 26, the Great Road, was forced off the Great Road near Tenacre by a herd

"Let's Get This Straight."

To the Editor of Town Topics:
 I read that story about Edward Ollivierre and the grenade (Town Topics, April 8). Well, it happened to be that I am the one that found the grenade. For one thing, Edward didn't snatch the grenade and say "David, you can't have this," and furthermore, I did not want to play with it.

I gave the grenade to Edward to do the talking in the post office and I came with him. Then we were chased out.

Then Ed and I went home and Ed gave it to his father. Would you do something about the story you wrote, because it's false and I got the works in school.

DAVID GOEKE

344 Ridge Road
 Kingston, N. J.

Editor's Note: TOWN TOPICS is glad to give David Goeke equal space to provide his version of what happened to the live grenade, hopes his friends at school will recognize him for the sensible guy he is and quit giving him the works.

Mr. Rohrer: Reconsider.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
 This is in answer to Graham Rohrer's news release to the Trenton Sunday Times Advertiser. I am writing this letter as a citizen and an individual member of the Board of Education of Princeton Township. My replies and reflections are personal and do not represent the Princeton Township Board of Education.

I take issue with Mr. Rohrer's statement that the Princeton Township Board of Education has never "threatened" the Borough Board of Education to pull out as a sending district to Princeton High School if both school districts were not unified. Having been a member of the Princeton Township Board of Education for the past six years, I have had the opportunity of sitting in joint meetings of the Borough and Township.

The general feeling has always been one of camaraderie and cooperation. It was my impression that both Boards of Education were charged with furnishing the children of the community with the best education possible.

I take issue with Mr. Rohrer's reference to the Township's wanting what the Borough already has, namely the High School. We in the Township only want the opportunity to offer the children in the Princeton community the strongest program that can be planned.

I also take issue with Mr. Rohrer's statement that the physical plants of both Borough and Township school systems are not equal. It is true that the Borough will have a new school for the elementary system, but we in the Township have equally new facilities, namely three schools completed within the last five or six years, one school completed in 1956 and an addition to the Valley Road School completed in 1951. We in the Township are proud of our school facilities and have been pleased to report on various occasions that we have one of the lowest maintenance costs for operation of schools in the State.

I realize that municipal consolidation would be preferable to the merging of our two school districts, but conditions are such that municipal consolidation is not immediately imminent at this time. There are dire needs for unified planning for both Boards of Education. Our High School at this date is overcrowded and will be for the years to come, unless action is taken immediately to unify the Township and Borough Boards of Education, and in so doing make the High School a Princeton community High School.

The report published by the Joint Princeton Borough and Princeton Township Boards of Education clearly has made provision for municipal consolidation before or after the school districts have been unified. The report "clearly states the educational advantages for both the Borough and the Township through regionalization."

Other than geographical boundaries, Princeton is economically and sociologically one community.

I sincerely hope Mr. Rohrer reconsiders his opposition to the school merger, because it has always been the concern of all connected with our systems to be able to furnish a strong program for all children, whether it be the college oriented or non-college oriented child.

L. M. HYMERLING

Rohrer's Resignation Asked.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

There is no question that the proposed regionalization of Princeton's school districts ought to be discussed fully, with all advantages and disadvantages considered in terms of what is in the best interest of the Princeton community, but the events of last weekend have put this impending discussion in an unfortunate light.

Mr. Graham Rohrer, President of the Borough School Board, announced, just in time to appear in the Sunday newspaper, his opposition to the plan for regionalization. In making his announcement, he referred in passing, and with evident distaste, to those who play "politics," he also deplored division within the community. It would be difficult, however, to imagine a step which he might have taken that could have been more nakedly "political" or more likely to create bitter division than this weekend press conference.

One could forgive Mr. Rohrer's lapse of judgement if the record of his actions in recent weeks did not raise the most serious questions about either his motives or his competence, or both. The regionalization plan, which he now attacks, appeared as an official document of the Board which he himself heads, and was recommended by the Board "without dissent."

What was Mr. Rohrer doing when the proper time came for him to register disagreement? On March 2 Mr. Rohrer appeared publicly at Princeton High School, and he left no doubt in the mind of his audience that he was committed to the plan for regionalization.

Now, in a dramatic and partisan way, he has come out in opposition. The arguments which he has advanced against regionalization of course require discussion, but I will leave them to those better informed than I.

What concerns me here, and what ought to concern every member of this community, is his baffling conduct. The possible explanations are numerous, but not one of them fails to discredit Mr. Rohrer as a responsible leader for a critical time. Under the circumstances which his own behavior has created, he can continue to serve Princeton only by submitting his resignation.

of deer. Steering to the right, he hit a culvert across a drive, knocked down a house sign and tore up 24 feet of front lawn.

Mr. Morse was not injured but the undercarriage of his sports car was damaged.

Early this week, brake failure caused Mary Sculerati, 20, 122 Snowden Lane, to hit a large rock on the side of Snowden at the intersection of Snowden and Overbrook Road. Mrs. Sculerati received a fractured left wrist.

She told police that as she approached the intersection she discovered she had no brakes. Police quoted Mrs. Sculerati as saying she had had new ones put on only the day before. The entire right side of her small foreign car was damaged.

CHILDREN INVITED

To Museum Lecture, Two free programs on modern cell biology will be given for Princeton children during vacation week by the Princeton Junior Museum.

Robert Allen, microbiologist at Princeton University, will talk about "Fun with Living Cells" at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday and Lionel Rebhun, also a University microbiologist, will explore "The Ultra-Structure of the Cell" at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, April 22. Both programs will be given in Room 10 Guyot Hall.

Dr. Allen will show films he has made of the movements of living organisms, and Dr. Rebhun will discuss new techniques of biological research, including the use of electron microscopes. The programs were prepared for adult students in Montclair, New Jersey.

Two field trips have been scheduled for the holiday week. On Tuesday at 1 p.m., youngsters will meet at the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company center on Nassau street, climb into a chartered bus and go to the N.J. Bell Computer Building Center in Trenton.

Elmer Dietz, manager of the Princeton telephone office, has TOWN TOPICS reaches every home and place of business served by the Princeton post office. By their own figures, no other Princeton newspaper does half as well.

French Market to Open

The first French Market of the Spring will be held Friday from 8:30 to 11:30. As in the past, the Market will be held Friday from 8:30 to 11:30. As in the past, the Market will be held on the island formed by the junction of Mercer and Nassau Streets, across from TOWN TOPICS.

Every Friday, rain or shine, throughout the spring, the Market is open, offering a large assortment of cut flowers, plants, flowering shrubs and, on occasion, fresh produce.

At the opening Friday, there will be daffodils and early flowering spring bulbs, as well as branches of flowering shrubs. Mrs. John T. McLoughlin and Mrs. Hallett Johnson are co-chairmen.

arranged the tour of telephone company facilities.

On Wednesday, there will be a tour of the Hightstown Rug Company plant with its large-scale knitting and weaving machines. The tour will start at 10 at the mill.

A Victorian children's theatre, a favorite toy in England for almost a century, has been given to the museum and will be available for stagings by children in the Museum's workshop room. It will be demonstrated by its donor, Miss Elizabeth Stone, Wednesday at 2.

Folk singing students from Princeton High School traveled to the Trenton Junior Museum on Saturday to present a program in the Trenton Museum's "Music and Sound" series. Materials, equipment and personnel for this Trenton series have been donated by the Princeton Junior Museum.

FIELD FIRES QUELLED

On Monday, Two field fires were extinguished Monday before the day's brisk winds were able to fan them into a full-size blaze.

Early in the afternoon, about two acres near 437 Mt. Lucas Road were scorched. Two pieces of fire apparatus and about ten firemen extinguished the blaze. At 12:30 p.m., a patrol car extinguished a small brush fire on Houghton Road. At 1:40 p.m., Mrs. Benton A. Bull, 61 Cleveland Lane, reported that a pillow case had caught fire in her drier located in the basement of her home. Two patrol cars and one piece of fire equipment responded to the call.

Mr. Rohrer is Inaccurate.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

As the employee of both Princeton Boards of Education hired to collect and analyze statistical data for the Joint School Study, I should like to correct some possible implications in Mr. Graham Rohrer's comments on school merger.

His concern that merger would mean an end to "the spirit of the Princeton Plan" is not supported by the results of the Study, which found no evidence of any policy of segregation in either school system. Furthermore the school districts designated for the merger system were based on extensive data tabulated by Educational Testing Services rather than on residence data alone, with the aim of preserving that spirit.

Mr. Rohrer's comments on the disadvantages to non-college-bound students under merger ignore the Study data showing that the proportions of Borough and Township high school students in all programs are entirely comparable. The "middle group" of students for whom he is concerned were found to enjoy distinct advantages in the Township Junior high school in their wider choice of program and greater flexibility of schedule resulting from the larger number of students.

Finally, as a Borough resident who worked closely with Board and school staff members in both systems, I must take issue with the implications of Mr. Rohrer's ambiguous comments on "the atmosphere for merger." It would be unfortunate indeed if these were taken to mean that Township school people had been obstructive or unco-operative in joint ventures with Borough schools. On the contrary, I found everyone associated with both systems to be eagerly accommodating for mutual benefit and convenience.

From Sterling Laboratory. Two robbers bound the night watchman at the Sterling Laboratory and Development Co., Monmouth Junction, last week and fled with $150.

Albert Mochel, 61, Route 1, told police two men entered the building shortly after midnight Sunday, struck him on the head and bound him. He said they took $100 from an office and $50 from his wallet before fleeing on foot.

Mr. Mochel managed to free himself and summoned police. He was not seriously hurt.

COMMITTEE FORMED

To Aid NAACP Fund. A committee to aid the NAACP Legal Defense Fund has been formed by a group of Princeton residents. William H. Scheide, a member of the board of the fund, announced that Dr. Robert F. Goheen, president of Princeton University, has been named honorary chairman and Peter B. Putnam and Len E. Newton vice-chairmen.

Norman C. Amaker, staff lawyer for the fund, attended the organization meeting of the Princeton Committee and explained the scope of the fund's operations. He said that it would cost about $500,000 to provide legal aid for the 3,800 persons arrested in the Selma voter registration drive alone, and he cited the 69 cases that have reached the Supreme Court in the last three years, each one costing about $50,000 a case.

Other members of the Committee, in addition to those named above, are: Archibald S. Alexander, Mrs. Elmer, Mrs. Elmer Albert, Mrs. John W. Ballantine, Mrs. Marver H. Bernstein, John C. Borden Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Buttlinger, Lewis B. Cuyler, Dean Ernest Gordon.

Also General Edward Greenbaum, Leighton H. Laughlin, Mrs. David H. McAlpin, Mrs. Arthur P. Morgan, Irving Newlin, Henry S. Patterson, Stanley C. Smoyer, the Rev. Robert R. Spears Jr., Thomas O. Stanley, Thomas H. Stix, William H. Sword, Hugh D. Wise Jr. and Mrs. Ithben Zeisling.

ADVISORY GROUP NAMED

For Planned Parenthood. A new Businessmen's Advisory Committee has been formed by the Planned Parenthood Association of the Mercer Area.

Mrs. Amos Eno, president of the Association, announced that the committee would consist of John Ballantine (temporary chairman, and liaison officer with the Association's board of directors); Robert Albert, Theodore Carl, Amos Eno (fund raising chairman for the Association); Richard Grafton, William Hill, Joseph Kessler, John B. Sil Jr., James P.

Stewart, W. Scott Taylor III and Victor Walcott (treasurer of the Association.)

PLANNING THE ANNUAL

It's "April." A Children's Corner and an art gallery will be new features this year at the "April Annual" of the Association of the New Jersey Neuro-Psychiatric Institute.
The "Annual" will be held Tuesday, April 27, on the grounds of the Institute.

Children's Corner chairman is Mrs. John S. Stover and The Gallery chairman is Mrs. John O'Hara. Paintings, ceramics, sculpture and needlework will be offered for sale in The Gallery, and gifts for children will be available in the Children's Corner.

Other committee chairmen are Mrs. Bertram F. Bomer, and Mrs. Alfred H. Fletcher, for the Bake Table; Mrs. Leland S. Briggs, White Elephant
Table and Mrs. Chester D.
Schomp and Mrs. Kenneth Chorley, Garden Mart. Members of the Contemporary Garden Club of Princeton are assisting with arrangements, and will staff the Mart on the day of the Annual.

Hostesses for the luncheon will gather under the chairmanship of Mrs. Peter Lawson-Johnston. Tickets for the luncheon, at $5, may be obtained from Mrs. Ralph Bel-ford, The North Road.

BY-LAWS REVISED

By Mercer Girl Scouts. The Mercer Girl Scout Council has approved revision of the organization's by-laws. Some 200 delegates from 12 neighborhood associations voted on the measure.

Mrs. Leslie L. Vivian Jr. of 74 Maclean Circle was given an award for helping to form the new council and Mrs.
W.H. Cherry was presented the "Thanks a Badge" for her contributions to scouting. Dr.
Ruth Adams, dean of Douglass College, was the guest speaker at the council's annual dinner meeting.

OFFICERS ELECTED

By University Women. Mrs.
I. Oliver Karraker has been elected president of the Princeton Branch of the American Association of University Women.

Other officers are Mrs. Roger T. Cole, second vice-president; Mrs. John Golden, cor-

Mrs. H. M. Gurin, legislative program; Elvira Jones, hospitality; Mrs. Edward E. Matthews, publicity; Mrs. Robert Levenstein, bulletin.

The members of the state's area branches will meet at Upsala College on May 1, for a day-long conference to discuss next year's program. Mrs. Karsaker is in charge of hospitality for the conference and Dorothy Wagner will handle communications.

PLANS 11 HOMES

In Borough. A sketch plan proposing 11 houses on 4.2
acres of land at Riverside and Nassau was presented at the Borough Planning Board's April meeting by Benedict R.
Yedlin. The Board told Mr.
Yedlin to draw up final plans.
The houses occupy the land on which Mr. Yedlin had once thought he might obtain permission to construct garden apartments.

GEAR FOR NOTHING

School Is Beneficiary. Every now and then, the Township Schools office in the Stony Brook administration building gets a memo from the United States government announcing the availability of various bits and pieces of electronic and electrical gear.

It's all surplus, all free of cash and red tape, and apparently not the kind of thing that could be sold second-hand on the open market. So the government — usually the Navy — offers it free to schools.

A notice came in not long ago, and Kenneth Bowers, junior high science teacher; Mike Pardee, one of those eighth-graders with built-in receivers for any kind of electronic information, and a couple of Valley Road friends, climbed into a Township schools truck and went off to layonne.

They spent the whole day in the Naval Supply depot there, pouring over crates, boxes and shelves. When they finally started the truck toward Princeton, they had 3,000 pounds and $27,000 worth of gear. All absolutely free.

Princeton University has also been generous to the schools, and Valley Road has science workbenches no longer usable for undergraduates, but extremely useful for seventh and eighth graders. Electronic equipment has also been donated by the University (see photo above.)

AUCTION RE-SCHEDULED

For Lahiere-Kane Building. The one-story brick building on Spring Street that once belonged to the Lahiere-Kane automobile agency will be up for auction on Wednesday, April 21, at 5 p.m. in Borough Hall.

The Borough has set a new date for the public sale because the first one, scheduled for April 1, was not advertised properly. Gordon Griffin, Borough attorney, told prospective buyers who had gathered in Borough Hall on April 1, that the slip-up in advertising could mean that the new owner would not have clear title to his property. The ad, which should have been published twice, ran only once.

Mayor Henry Patterson said this week at his press conference that the Borough might sell off part of the Spring Street frontage of the new parking lot for stores.

"We'd like to buy the property owned by Harry Farr in the interior of this block," Mayor Patterson said. "This means we could connect the so-called 'Lampighter' parking lot with our new lot. Then, if we could have a row of stores fronting on Spring Street, we'd have a real interior parking lot."

The extra property would be purchased with money obtained by the Borough from the sale of the building that is up for auction on April 21.

Mayor Patterson also observed that more people are using the Park Place parking lot than has previously been the case.

COMMITTEE NAMED

For Hospital Development. Princeton Hospital has appointed a resources committee which will be in charge of the hospital's development.

The hospital has had a shortage of medical and surgical beds during the past 18 months and has also begun the second stage of its $3,500,000 campaign for the construction of a new building. More than 1,500,000 is still needed.

Frank E. Taphin will be the chairman of the committee and Richard W. Baker Jr. is the chairman. The other members are James Carey, Frederick P. Lawrence, Richard Macgill Leslie L. Vivian Jr. and Laurence C. Ward Jr. Ex-officio members are George W. Conover, John C. Whitwell, Dr. David J. Rose and John W. Kauffman.

It will be the aim of the committee to raise $600,000 for the proposed building by September 15 while the hospital seeks to negotiate a loan for the remaining million dollars that is needed for the "J" building. Mr. Conover has stated that the hospital will substitute medical and surgical beds for the projected maternity ward in the new building. "Our decision," he said, "was made possible by the stabilization of the birth rate" as indicated by a survey of 23 hospitals, including Princeton Hospital. The decision was made with the approval of the department of obstetrics and gynecology.

34th annual book sale for April 28, 29 and 30.

The sale will take place in the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and, as always, prospective Bryn Mawr students will benefit. In the past, the sale has raised funds for 40 scholarships and last year $4,200 was collected from the event.

A large collection of books has been contributed by Cornelia Otis Skinner adding to the thousands of donations. Halsey Thomas, the Princeton University archivist, is helping the alumnae sort the works and assign correct values to collectors' items.

Anyone wishing to donate books as well as prints, records or sheet music may call Mrs. Joseph Wilder at 924-9003, Mrs. Gilbert Nicol at 921-6074, Mrs. Alan Carrick at 924-2398 or Mrs. Lyman Spitzer at 924-3007. The sale's planning committee is currently sorting the thousands of books already received.

ASSISTANT HEAD NAMED

At Princeton Day Schools. The Princeton Day Schools' faculty committee on operations has selected Miss Madeline Weigel as the new assistant head of the junior school. The appointment was approved by the board of trustees.

Miss Weigel has been the head of the lower school at Miss Fine's for 15 years. She joins Mrs. Roy S. Vogt as assistant to Fowler Merle-Smith, head of grades kindergarten through eight at the Day Schools.

Mrs. Alan D. Williams and Herbert McNaney are sharing the leadership of the upper school. The school has also named the following department heads for the upcoming year: Miss Catherine F. Campbell, mathematics; Mrs. Paul Schleyer, science; Robert N. Smyth, languages; George U. Warree, history.

Also, George Packard, English; Mrs. Wilbur M. Young, music; Mrs. Arlene H. Smith, art; Robert C. Whitlock, industrial arts; Daniel J. Barren, boys' physical education; Mrs. Philip J. Cobb, girls' physical education. Stuart Robson is the acting head of the science department.

Mrs. Sage to Resign

Mrs. Geoffrey Sage has announced that she plans to resign as executive director of the Princeton Chapter of the American Red Cross.

It is expected that the resignation will become effective on June 30. Mrs. Sage, a member of the chapter since 1946, was instrumental in founding the Princeton Blood Donor Service. She has also devoted much time to the Junior Red Cross.

Chapter officials said Mrs. Sage plans to carry on part-time work in the Junior Red Cross field. There are 36 schools in the Princeton area enrolled in the program.

partment during the remainder of the current academic year in Mrs. Schleyer's absence.

Only Mr. Packard, a member of the English faculty at the Millbrook School in New York, is a newcomer to the staff. Mr. Packard will continue with an English program developed for Miss Fine's School and the Day Schools by Mrs. Anne R. Shephard.

CRITICS SAY "YES"

To Chamber Group. "A smart, tight ensemble with superior players. Well - trained, spick and span, precise in attack, responsive in dynamics, it is able to approach music of any kind with complete confidence."

With these words, Harold Schonberg of the New York Times praised the Princeton Chamber Orchestra, which made its New York debut Wednesday in Town Hall under Nicholas Harsanyi.

"If Rome can have its Virtuosi di Roma and Zagreb its I Solisti di Zagreb, New Jersey is certainly entitled to its very own Princeton Chamber Orchestra," commented John Grien of the New York Herald Tribune. "Following along similar patterns of precision and homogeneity established by the European ensembles, it produces several other kinds of assets, not the least of which are a uniform style and a sense of development under one guiding hand."

Miles Kastendieck of the New York Journal-American said: "Thus the debut brought forth a fine group of players . . . it has fine ensemble, strong in tone and in musicianship. Its leader, Nicholas Harsanyi demands that his musicians dig into their instruments. The result is a gratifying, full deep string tone, well grounded in bass."

And Harriet Johnson of the New York Post: "The high technical standards were there, of course, but an uninhibited freedom and dramatic emphasis in the interpretations gave the illusion, at least, that Harsanyi wanted each of his players to say something individually as well as collectively."

"Obviously how these Princetonians rehearse," concluded Miss Johnson, "is what makes it an orchestra with a difference; superior musicians, arresting personalities, quality director."

Two weeks ago, Erica Morini joined the chamber group in a Mozart violin concerto recorded for Decca. Another album, featuring the orchestra itself, will be released in August.

It's New To Us

heptica, white and yellow iridium, and spiderwort. We found a sturdy little Christmas fern and the so-called interrupted fern. Galax and wild columbine, too.

Most of these are happiest in a woodland with some good, rich leafmold underfoot, but then aren't we all? The little plants are not cheap, by any means (95 cents each, in most cases), so be sure your woodland thumb is turning green before you buy.

For urban gardeners, Howe's has Hino azaleas for $4.98 and the white "Delaware Valley" for $12.50 and Ilex convexa to put by the front door, and pear, apple, plum and cherry trees to bloom everywhere.

You can buy a strawberry jar full of plants for $14 or $18.50, strawberry plants au naturel: "Fairfax," "Vesper," "Sparkle" and "Streamliner," Persian lilac trees can grow near the back door and white lilac near the front.

Many Howe plants have identification cards on front informing you of classification (shrub, vine, etc.); type (deciduous or evergreen), hardiness, height, season of bloom and so on.

And indoors, if you can bear to go indoors at Howe's, you'll find a rack of gardening books, many of them "Sunset" magazine publications: how to build a barbecue, a fence or a gate; how to grow annuals and perennials and best of all, perhaps, "Basic Gardening."

LEAGUE TO VOTE

Oo Area Program. The League of Women Voters in Princeton will decide upon an area program for the coming year at its annual meeting Wednesday at 8 in the First Presbyterian Church.

One of the major proposals to be considered will be the suggestion to continue support of the consolidation of the Borough and Township and to study and evaluate alternative proposals. The proposed area program also supports the development of Community Park and other recreational facilities.

The League has urged the construction of a Route 206 bypass around Princeton. Members also vote on measures arising from a study of school regionalization. In West Windsor and Montgomery Township, league units will prepare and distribute their own "Know Your Town" booklets.

Mrs. Jacob Viner will be the guest speaker at the meeting. Mrs. A. James Fenton, president of the league, will present the highlights of her annual report the budget and the state of nominees for the executive board for the coming year.

CHAIRMEN CHOSEN

For Hospital Rummage Sale. Committee heads for the rummage sale to be held for the benefit of Princeton Hospital have been named. The sale will take place April 26 through 29, 1965, in the Harrison Street Fire House.

The chairmen are Mrs. Alonzo Church and Elizabeth Owens, belts and bags; Mrs. Edmund Hally and Mrs. Martin Summerfield, books; Mrs. L.H. Myers and Mrs. Robert Pease, bric-a-brac; Mrs. Otto Rosner and Mrs. Clarence Johnson, children's clothes; Mrs. Alfred Rozas and Mrs. Richard Shurtleff, clothes; Mrs. T. Roba Webb and Mrs. Margaret Hall, drapes.

Also, Mrs. Harold J. Saum, furniture; Mrs. Ivan Monk and Mrs. Adolph Morgan, hats; Mrs. Albert Stives, jewelry; Mrs. Edward Schulz and Mrs. Henry Dyer, kitchen; Mrs. Edward McCall, men's clothes; Mrs. Marshall Stittig and Mrs. John Martin, receiving; Mrs. John B. Nelson and Mrs. Joseph M. Grazel, shoes; Mrs. H. B. Munson and Mrs. Stuart Drier, women's clothes; Mrs. Roy Jackson and Mrs. Alonzo Church, Thursday night committee; and Mrs. Francis Bushnell and Mrs. William Bonthron, pick up.

Portable items may be delivered to the fire house on Monday, April 26, from 9 to 5 or Tuesday from 9 to noon. Heavy furniture will be collected on April 26, with arrangements to be made through either Mrs. Bushnell (466-2036) or Mrs. Bonthron (924-1148).

TO DISCUSS FANS

At Woman's Club Meeting. Mrs. Elsa N. James will discuss "The Fascination of Fans" at the Thursday meeting of the Woman's Club of Princeton.

The meeting will be held at noon in the Shrine Club on River Road. Mrs. James will display her collection of fans to illustrate her talk. After the program Mrs. Billy F. Landrum will head the social hour.

NEW FILMS IN STOCK

At Public Library. The Public Library has received 17 new films for the month of April.

The motion pictures may be borrowed from the library by individuals and groups which have 16 millimeter sound projectors. Included are films on Greek sculpture, another on orchestral instruments and a third dealing with the conquest of outer space.

There are several new Canadian films ranging from skiing in the Rockies to exploring in Nova Scotia. Those wishing further information may contact Miss Therese Critchlow or Miss Caroline Kerr at 924-9529.

TO FORM BARNARD CLUB

In Mercer County, Graduates of Barnard College who live in Mercer County have been invited to join in forming a Barnard Club. Barnard is the only one of the so-called "seven sisters" colleges without representation in the central New Jersey area.

Questionnaires will be mailed to all Mercer alumnae to determine the amount of interest in such a club, and these questionnaires should be returned to Mrs. Richard Magee, 51 Mason Drive, Princeton.

At a meeting held on April 6 to initiate the formation of a Barnard club, the following alumnae were present: Mesdames Bernard Gerb, Bruno Harris, Walter C. King II, Robert A. Kulka, Harold L. Loew, Richard Magee, Melvin

To Plan International Surveys. Directors of many leading polling organizations throughout the world are meeting in Princeton this week to discuss international surveys of public opinion to be conducted in the coming year.

The conference marks the 18th anniversary of Gallup International and the 30th birthday of the founding of the Gallup Poll in this country. The Princeton-based organization is leading discussion of such matters as the experience to be gained from last fall's general elections in Great Britain and the United States.

In planning surveys for the near future, the pollsters will seek a sampling of opinion on attitudes in the world's democracies toward the East-West struggle. The polling organizations, which represent 41 nations, will also investigate opinions on various political, social and economic problems.

Gallup affiliates in France and West Germany will be facing national elections this year, with the possibility of another election in Great

George H. Gallup

Britain. Last year, the British Gallup Poll came within two percentage points of the actual vote division.

Throughout the world there are more than 10,000 Gallup staff members. Discussion in Princeton this week will also take into consideration the matter of "flash" surveys in which a sampling of opinion is completed within 24 hours of a major news story.

Gallup organizations operate in the following regions: Africa, Argentina, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, Canada, Chile, Colombia, Denmark, Ecuador, Egypt, Finland, France, Great Britain, Greece, India, Iran, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Jordan, Lebanon, Luxemburg, Malaysia, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Pakistan, Paraguay, Peru, the Philippines, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Syria, Thailand, Turkey, Uruguay, Viet Nam and West Germany.

BROKER NAMED

To Clark Dodge & Company. Charles B. Straut of 101 Galbreath Drive has joined the Princeton office of Clark, Dodge & Company, an investment brokerage firm with headquarters in New York City.

Mr. Straut has taught economics at Princeton University and has held management positions in commercial and international banking. In 1962, he joined the World Bank and was in charge of lending operations in Venezuela and Bolivia.

From 1953 until 1959, he was an assistant treasurer in the national banking division of the New York Trust Company. He then returned to Princeton University to do graduate work and teach in the economics department.

Harland W. Hoisington, Clark, Dodge vice-president and manager of the Princeton office, noted that Mr. Straut "will add further strength to the expanding brokerage and investment advisory service provided by our office to institutions as well as individuals throughout the Mercer County area." The Princeton headquarters of the brokerage firm are at 70 Nassau Street.

FLOWERS FOR EASTER

In New Garden Mart, Ambleside, the new garden market on Route 206, Belle Mead, will open this Thursday just in time for Easter blooms.

Townsend Scudder, owner of the new garden center and landscape service, has installed moveable counters so that the center can provide space for as many as 40 persons. Later in the spring, garden clubs and civic organizations will be invited to use the shop for meetings.

During a meeting, the counters will be moved into the 15-by-25-foot elrens tent that will also be used for the sale and storage of bulk items.

In addition, the shop will be used for garden "clinics," demonstrations on flower arrangements and slide-lecture presentations on landscaping and horticulture.

TO OPEN FILM OFFICE

In New York City. Industrial Education Films, which has an office at 3 Palmer Square, has announced that it will open a new office and preview studio in the Boroughs Building on Third Avenue in New York City on May 1.

The new quarters will house administration, advertising, sales promotion and film distribution facilities. There will also be a preview studio where government and industrial personnel can screen the films.

The corporate headquarters and its accounting, legal and public relations services will remain in Princeton. The firm, which is headed by Frederick W. Bright, specializes in production of audio-visual indoc-

TULIP HEAD PICKED

By Sweet Briar College.

Mrs. Robert J. Plumb Jr. has been chosen to head the 14th annual Briar College Tulip Bulb Campaign in the Princeton area.

The first meeting of the drive was held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. James Wittke, president of the Princeton chapter of the college club. Funds from the drive will go towards scholarships for deserving students.

Mrs. Plumb will be assisted by Mrs. Allen Adams, Mrs. James E. Burke, Mrs. John P. Cleaver, Miss Jean Duff, Mrs. Homer Jones, Mrs. Arthur L. Keiser Jr., Mrs. Gilbert Lea, Mrs. Robert G. McAllen, Mrs. John McPhee, Mrs. Frank E. Mountcastle, Miss Betty Preston, Mrs. Ralph Rotnem, Mrs. Steven Smith, Mrs. W. Frederick Stohman, Mrs. John Strong, Mrs. Virginia Telpel, Mrs. R. E. Van Vranken, Mrs. Jac Weller and Mrs. Wittke.

Catalogues will be on display at the Stony Brook Garden Club Plant Sale on Tuesday, May 11, from 10 to 5. The catalogues of the imported Dutch tulip bulbs will also be shown at the home of Mrs. J. Taylor Woodward of 15 Hodge Road.

SUPPER SCHEDULED

By Boy Scouts in Blawenburg. Boy Scout Troop 46 of Blawenburg will hold its annual pancake and sausage supper on Thursday, April 22, from 5:30 to 8.

The supper will take place in the church house in Blawenburg and tickets may be purchased at the door. They are priced at $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children under 12. The funds will be used for equipment and camping funds.

COKE PARTY PLANNED

By Wellesley Club. The Wellesley Club of Central

Township Plans Clean-Up

The 1965 spring clean-up will be held April 26 through 30 in the Township to coincide with the Borough's program.

Princeton residents are urged to eliminate the threat of fire and the annoyance of insects by the removal of rubbish and debris from yards, cellars, attics and vacant lots. Material should be placed in containers at the curb for removal.

Large branches must be cut and tied into bundles and only refuse which one man can lift will be collected. Residents wishing further information should contact the Township Engineer at 921-7077.

New Jersey will hold a coke party Monday at the home of Mrs. George L. Mellor Jr. of Honeybrook Lane.

All high school sophomores and juniors in the area interested in Wellesley College are invited to attend. Slides of the college will be shown and members of the club will be on hand to answer questions. Those wishing further information should call Mrs. Mellor at 921-8799.

BOYCHOIR TO TOUR

For 35 Days in Europe. The Columbus Boychoir of Princeton departed by ship Wednesday for a 35-day concert tour in Europe.

The choir will present more than 20 private performances in seven European countries and several additional concerts will be given in American Embassies. A group of 26 boys and eight adults are making the trip aboard the Queen Mary.

They will travel by private motor coach through France, Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Luxembourg, Belgium and Great Britain. The choir, which has toured for the Department of State in the past, has recently completed concert tours in the United States.

The boys traveled some 17,000 miles to present 65 concerts to domestic audiences. Traveling with the young singers are Donald T. Bryant, musical director; Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Wolfe, tour teachers and chaperones; and four adult soloists, Miss Mary Evelyn Bruce, Gerald Carpenter, Lewis Larson and Anthony Tamburello.

UNIT MEETINGS SET

By League of Women Voters. The Lawrence Township League of Women Voters will discuss structure and problems of Mercer County government at its April unit meetings.

They will be held Tuesday, April 20, at 8:15 in the home of Mrs. Stuart Harmon, 20 Monroe Avenue, Lawrenceville, and on Wednesday at 8:15 in the home of Mrs. Ronald Altman, 1 Cresthill Road, Trenton. The voters will consider such problems as the lack of an executive head and the division of responsibilities among freeholders.

NEW OFFICERS NAMED

By Hopewell League. New officers have been named by the League of Women Voters of Hopewell Valley.

They are Mrs. Martin Katz, president; Mrs. Charles McCracken, second vice-president; Mrs. Jules Kazarow, treasurer; Mrs. Francis Irwin, Mrs. Richard Jobs, Mrs. Deane Merry, Mrs. Louis Verbeyst and Mrs. William Morewood, directors. All will serve two years with the exception of Mrs. Katz and Mrs. Morewood, who will fill one-year unexpired terms.

Elected last year were Mrs. Peter Maruhle, first vice-president; Mrs. Donald McCoy, secretary; Mrs. Roger Addor and Mrs. Robert Applebaum, directors.

NSF GRANT PRESENTED

Princeton Receives $445,000. Princeton University has received a grant of $445,850 from the National Science Foundation toward the cost of a new building in the Department of Astrophysical Sciences.

The building will cost more than $1 million and the Ford Foundation contributed nearly half last year. John P. Moran, director of the university's physical planning, said a contract for construction of the building would be awarded shortly.

The building is being designed by Minoru Yamasaki, architect for Princeton's new Woodrow Wilson School. It is expected that ground-breaking will take place a few weeks after the award of the contract and the building will be ready for use by July of 1966.

The structure will be located west of Palmer Stadium between Ivy Lane and College Road. Two telescope domes will be contained in the roof. The telescopes will be principally for the use of students.

$750,000 CONTRIBUTED

To Population Office. The Rockefeller Foundation has contributed $500,000 and the Ford Foundation has given $250,000 to Princeton University's Office of Population Research.

The grants will finance the office's operations for the next 10 years. The office is part of the Woodrow Wilson School of

BIG DAY ON CARNEGIE
Three Regattas Scheduled.
Nine races involving the crews of four different colleges will take place Saturday on Carnegie Lake. The program gains added attraction because of the tidal conditions on the Harlan River, which are sufficiently unsatisfactory so that Yale and Rutgers, scheduled to row there, will compete here instead.

Action will begin at 3:30 and last until shortly after 6. The first three races, to be held at 15-minute intervals, will involve the freshman, Jayvee and varsity 150-lb. crews of Navy, Princeton and Rutgers.

Freshman races between Yale and Rutgers at 4:20 and Navy and Princeton at 4:40 will follow. The regattas between the heavyweight crews will remain separate throughout the afternoon, each being conducted as a two-boat at-fair.

Rutgers and Yale Jayvees at 5; Princeton-Navy Jayvees at 5:20; Yale-Rutgers varsities at 5:40 and Princeton-Navy at 6 will round out the afternoon schedule. If spring sunshine graces the day, Carnegie's banks will be lined with several thousand spectators, particularly in view of Rutgers' opportunity to score back-to-back victories over Princeton and Yale.

Chances are such an accomplishment would be without precedent in any sport in the past century of athletic competition at Rutgers. The Scarlet navy swept the river against Princeton here last Saturday, defeating the Tigers in all three races, and victory over Yale would be especially sweet as a chaser.

It was a poor day for the Orange and Black, which trailed in every one of six races save the Jayvee lightweight event, in which Princeton defeated Columbia. Rutgers' margin was a length in the varsity race and open water in the other two.
The wind was an adverse factor in Princeton's performances, since it rowed in the outer lane all afternoon, but no one felt that Rutgers did not earn its victories conclusively.

Little Other Action Here.
Virtually all other athletic action this weekend will be staged away from home. The lacrosse team undergoes the last of its rugged pre-Ivy encounters when it plays Army on the plains of West Point.

John Conroy's tennis team, launching defense of the Eastern Association title it has won for the last four years, will also travel to meet the cadets. An 8-1 triumph last weekend over Georgetown was the team's 47th in a row.

Navy's baseball team will play host to the Tigers at Annapolis, while the track team goes to New Brunswick to face Rutgers. A triangular golf match among Princeton, Columbia and Brown on the Springdale links rounds out Saturday's schedule.

Ball Team Wins in 12th.
Eleven consecutive innings of shutout pitching were the big factor in Princeton's 3-2 victory over Army Saturday on Clarke Field. The first seven were credited to sophomore Graham Marcott; the final four to junior Tom Scott, who scored the winning run on a bases-loaded single by sophomore Bill Potter with one out in the last of the 12th.

Marcott gave up two earned runs in the first, then settled down beautifully to strike out ten, yield four hits and walk only three before retiring for a pinch-hitter during the eighth inning rally that brought the Tigers even at 2-all. Scott, too, pitched in masterful fashion, allowing only one hit in four rounds, so the Tigers have good hurling strength even if they appear likely to follow the course of most other Princeton baseball teams in their inability to hit.

Second Half Costly Again.
For the third Saturday in a row, a poor third period made the difference in Princeton's third straight defeat in lacrosse. The Tigers trailed powerful Navy by no more than 9-6 on Campbell Field at half-time but when the midshipmen added five more to their total while holding the home team scoreless, it was no contest.

The final score was 17 to 9, and would have been worse
save for fine work in the goal by Graeme Flanders. He made 15 saves, blocking about half the shots the Navy had on target, while the visitors' goalie let nine of the 15 Princeton shots get by him. Bob Mueller, former Princeton resident, again scored twice for the losers.

PIIS ROUTS BOONTON Home Opener Saturday. The
Princeton High lacrosse team
(1-1) will play its home opener Saturday, fresh from a first-victory, 12-1 rout of Boonton.
Pieddie will come to town for the 2 p.m. contest on the Community Park field.

Princeton's Dave Van Ness and Carl Burns personally de-

We read that many early civilizations believed there was great medicinal power in precious stones. And, ancient horsemen who wore a turquoise were supposed to be shielded against injury. The wearer of an amethyst was guarded against becoming intoxicated! The opal was considered a good-luck charm, but then got the reverse bad reputation in the nineteenth century, when great misfortune befell its owner in the novel, Anne of Geirstein, by Sir Walter Scott. The idea of a birthstone for each month is traced all the way back to the breastplate of Aaron, the brother of Moses, which was set with twelve jewels, each engraved with the name of one of the twelve tribes of Israel. However, the actual wearing of birthstones did not come into popularity until about the 16th century. Incidentally, we can give you a gem of a buy with really valuable service, right now! icipating in the sport for the first time. Van Ness scored five goals, while Burns checked in with four plus three assists. Bob Chenieck tallied twice for the Blue and White.

With the PHS attack in command most of the time, the defense seldom was taxed, but Coach Bob Arbogast did cite the play of Bob Rodgers, Bill Wakefield, Ben Apple and Jim Floyd. Also responding with a fine defensive effort were regulars George Markuson and Dave Nichols.

The losers hurt their own cause considerably by drawing twice as many penalties as the Little Tigers, 15 to 7. Offensively, they were outshot, 27 to 12.

TRACKMEN WIN PAIR

Defeat Ewing, Steinert. "The first was easier and the second tougher than I expected." Thus PHS track coach Jerry Groninger summed up his team's impressive wins last week over Steinert and Ewing. The scores were 70-47 and 73-44.

The expected head-to-head battle with Ewing never materialized. Of the 30-point margin of victory, Groninger said, "Certainly this first meet was outstanding. We got good times and performances from everyone. We had a right to be pleased."

Gallagher Breaks Record. In the Steinert meet, top performances were turned in by Jay Gallagher, Carl DeCavalcante and Roger Madden. Gallagher broke the school record for the outdoor mile — 4:33 — set 14 years ago with a 4:30:2 clocking. The only real surprise perhaps was that Jay did it so early in the season.

In the shot, the mammoth DeCavalcante reached 52 feet, 8 inches off the school record. "I expect Carl to break the record in the next couple of weeks," said Groninger.

Madden's winning leap of 21-3 in the broad jump is, again, only 8 inches short of the school mark of 21-11. Groninger was just as optimistic over a new mark here, too, saying, "I look for Roger to hit 22 feet before the season is over."

DeCavalcante and Andy Kulley finished 1-2 in both the shot and discus, as did Bill Aiken and Bart Bennett in the hurdles, Bennett capturing the lows and Aiken the highs. Aiken also placed first in the pole vault, clearing 10-6.

Craig Beachell led a PHS sweep in the javelin with a toss of 164 feet. Teammate Dan Tindall won the event on Wednesday. Altogether, Groninger reported he has five boys — Beachell, Tindall, Tom Fasanella, Mark Dannenhauer and Bill Conover — who consistently reach the 150 to 165-foot area, far enough to win most area dual meets.

The Spartans prevented any runaway by finishing first in the 100, 220, 440, 880 and high jump. Carl Giese, top half-miler for the Little Tigers, did not compete.

Against Ewing, Giese won the half-mile with a fine 2:05 effort and Vince Boecanuso captured the 220 with a time of 24.4. Other winners included DeCavalcante, Kulley, Aiken, Bennett and Gallagher. There were no double winners on either team.

Off its early performances, particularly its manhandling of Ewing, PHS must rank as one of the top track contenders in the county. The Blue and White has considerable strength in the field events, the hurdles and the mile. However, once his team ventures outside the county to oppose traditional track powers such as New Brunswick, Groninger acknowledged that PHS will be less formidable.

PHS NINE BUSY

Three Games in Six Days. In a 19-game baseball schedule, any sustained losing streak is tantamount to disaster. Princeton High has lost its first two — no reason to push the panic button yet — but the lumps so far of its attack — one run and seven hits in 14 innings — is cause for alarm.

If the Little Tigers are to jell, they must do so quickly. They play three games this week, seven in the next 14 days. Thursday, Franklin comes to town for a 4 p.m. contest at Harris Field. On Saturday, the Blue and White travel to Lawrenceville for a 2:30 contest. —Continued on Page 29

How do we make lightning "bounce off" to give you more dependable electric service?

Lightning plays a rough, tough game. To protect your supply of electricity against the damage that could be caused by even a single bolt, we have installed about 300,000 lightning arresters throughout our system. In 1964 alone, we installed approximately 20,000 lightning arresters at a cost of nearly one-half million dollars. Research, extensive studies and continual review of new materials are constantly carried on to strengthen our electric system against damage by lightning. It is one more reason why your supply of electricity is so dependable and why you can Live Better... Electrically!

Ewing Wins, 4-0. When he strides to the mound, Ewing's Johnny Smallwood becomes ten feet tall. On Friday, on his home diamond, he continued his mastery of the Little Tigers, shutting them out, 4-0, on five hits. Along the way, he struck out 11 to raise his total to 23 in 14 innings.

PHS coach Harry Zoll's array threatened twice, in the third and fourth innings when they placed two men on base with one out. Smallwood's curve eliminated both as he fanned Curt Mitchell and Ken Ward in the third and Wayne Martin and Ed Hull in the fourth.

In the seventh and final frame, PHS catcher Paul Barrett, who was credited with two of Princeton's five hits, led off with a double. He became the sixth Little Tiger to die on base when Bill Bartolino, pinch hitting for Martin, struck out. Hull became Smallwood's eleventh victim and Lou Balestrieri, batting for pitcher Tommy Wood, grounded out.

Chris Fischer started for the losers, gave up all four Ewing runs and was tagged with the defeat, his second. Sophomore Tommy Wood relieved in the fourth. He struck out three in holding the Blue Devils scoreless. After walking the leadoff batter in the fifth, Wood, on a nice play, picked him off first.

Princeton's other three hits—all singles—were banded out by Billy McQuade, Curt Schaefer and Hull. Actually, Princeton outdid Ewing, 5 to 4, but the winners had the good fortune to combine three of their four hits in the third inning when they tallied three runs.

WOMEN GOLFERS READY
To Start New Season. Luncheon Tuesday at the Princeton Inn, followed by a putting contest, will open the 1965 season for women members of the Springdale Golf Club. Activities this year will be planned by Mrs. John H. Houghton, chairman, assisted by Mrs. J. H. Mathey.

The qualifying round for the Spring Tournament will be held May 18, while a Memorial Tournament honoring Jean McLean is scheduled for the

TIGERS WIN ANOTHER

Selon Hall Beaten, 4-1. Good pitching continued to spark Princeton's baseball team Tuesday as the Tigers upended the defending champions in NCAA District II. Selon Hall, which won its way to Omaha last spring in playoffs staged on Clarke Field, was a 4-1 victim of the steadily-improving Orange and Black.

Southpaw Tom Scott went all the way despite a bone-chilling wind and temperatures in the 40s, recording his second triumph in 72 hours. It was such unpleasant weather for baseball that the players on the two squads clearly outnumbered the spectators, counting even children and canines.

Scott gave up seven hits and four walks and survived two errors, one of which helped produce the losers' lone run in the second. He was at his best with men on base, frequently pitching his way out of tight spots.

Princeton bagged one in the first when third baseman Wally Uhle doubled over the left fielder's head and completed the circuit on a fielder's choice and a wild pitch. The winning run followed a round later on

He's Number One

To no one's surprise, the best foul shooter in the U.S. during the 1964-65 basketball season was Bill Bradley. The Tiger star's familiar crouch and one-handed push shot clicked for a great .886 percentage—273 for 308 in his 29 games.

Bradley was third nationally in average points per game with a mark of 30.5. He trailed Rick Barry of Miami (37.4) and the late Wayne Estes of Utah (33.7), but his first place in foul shooting and third place in overall average made him the best balanced of the nation's top scorers in collegiate ranks.

the wings of a 350-foot blast triggered by sophomore catcher Tom Peppier. The solo homer sailed well over the 336-foot sign in left.

Two more runs in the seventh, one on a single by Captain Jack Singer and another on a delayed double steal that saw Uhle score for the second time, gave Scott welcome insurance. The Tigers go to New Brunswick to play Rutgers Tuesday after this weekend's invasion of Annapolis, and will play a pair of league games the following weekend against Harvard and Brown. By the time they are over, they'll know just how solid they are.

CATHEDRAL SWAMPED

By PHS Trackmen. Even though Princeton High coach Jerry Groninger had sidelined his best man in every event, PHS still overwhelmed a weak Cathedral track team Monday at Harris Field. The final tally was a lopsided 107 to 10.

The Little Tigers swept first place in every event. They and the visitors alike were hampered by Monday's strong winds.

The meet—it was Princeton's third victory in as many starts—proved little, but it did give Groninger a chance to observe his second and third ranks more closely. He reported that Dave Lloyd performed well in the hurdles and Robert Goodale in the sprints. Of the latter, he said, "I think we have found ourselves another sprinter." Goodale won the 220.

HORSE SHOW PLANNED

In Pennington Next Month. The sixth annual horse show sponsored by the Pennington Jaycees will be held at Sunny Acres Stables on Sunday, May 23.

Ernest E. Hydel Jr., president, has announced that Richard Jabs of Woosamonsa Road, Pennington will serve as chairman. Proceeds from the event, which is sanctioned by the Garden State Horse Shows Association, will be used by the Jaycees for community projects.

BOWLING NOTES

Junior—Senior Play Held. Jim Silvester and Ed Duncan won the Youth Bowling Association Junior-Senior Tournament with a combined score of 1233 pins. Silvester's high game was 161 and Duncan bowled a 243.

The other scores were: Stewart Bell and Jerry Perpetua, 1220; Allan and Andy Quebec, 1206; Hal and Ray Rihubart, 1167; Ken Grob and John Fitzpatrick, 1165; Craig and John Donaldson, 1158; Ritchie Volz and Jack Lucey, Curt Mitchell and George Pierre, both with 1144; Tom Wood and Bill Whately, 1105; and Harry Cahn and Al Hibbard, 1079.

In regular league play, Princeton Recreation Center moved to a two-point lead over Papp's Pro Shop, 54-52, among Three-Man Classic teams. Turney Motors remained in the third spot with 47½ points. Joe Baldino led the conference bowlers with games of 212, 203, 235 for a 650 total.

ELECTRIC LIVING GUIDE

All rights reserved. U. S. Moulton & Co., Inc., New York.

NOW IT'S THE TWO-HOME FAMILY Electric Heating A Boon

Change of pace equals change of place for more and more American families. But there's not as much long distance gypsy-type travel involved as you might think.

The clues are to be found in the real estate ads in newspapers and in the simplified hints shelter magazines are featuring increasingly. The tempting titles tell the story, "How To Furnish Your Weekend Country Place;" "Uncollected Days At The Shore."

A licensed electrical heating contractor says his personal business increase bears out the trend.

"Most of the folks I've been doing installations for live only about an hour's drive away. One family does have to cover 150 miles each way, but they're the exception.

"And these are not what I'd have called 'a summer house' when I was a boy. In most cases today's vacation house may be tomorrow's retirement house, and in practically all instances the owners make at least a couple of visits in the winter.

"That's practical, though, I'd wager only since electric heat became available. After all, it starts to work the instant it's turned on."

He also points out that strong construction with "winter-weight" insulation is becoming the rule.

Why? "Well, you can always add the fills, but with building costs expected to maintain a steady rise, the sooner the basic construction-insulation standards are provided for the greater the long-term financial benefit," points out the contractor.

"We advise good construction anyway from a comfort standpoint. It's routine for those of us in the electric heating business; you see electricity is the only 100% usable fuel. Why just waste any of it? But it makes additional benefits with the vacation house. When good construction isn't conserving fuel, it's keeping out the excessive sun of summer and the gales of winter."

Predictions are that the second-home trend will really burgeon. Mom's reason might be: "With total electric living, it's like having servants. I can have a vacation too." Dad's reason might be: "With traffic what is it, nearby is far enough away. I'd rather spend more time in the outboard and less on the road."

QUESTION BOX

Q. I say that insulation is insulation the country over and that you need insulation just as much to keep out the heat in a warm climate. But my husband says this isn't so. Who's right?

UP-DATE... ANTIQUE HEATING NOW!

This elegant relic reminds us of by-gone days. Be elegant, better your days ahead with total electric home heating.

A. He is, in a way. And . . . you are, in a way, because insulation is needed but the amount varies somewhat. Obviously you missed the explanation published in these pages a while back. For others who may be similarly perplexed here is the word according to the National Mineral Wool Association. Recommendations are tailored to region. There are three sets of specifications:

- Unusually Mild Winters (such as Atlanta, Dallas)
- Usually Normal Winters (such as New York, New Jersey, St. Louis)
- Usually severe winters (such as Buffalo, Minneapolis).

Let's say that an R-8 insulation is recommended for the "usually normal" areas. That would be dropped to R-7 for a home in Atlanta. On the other hand it is recommended that it be increased to R-11 for a home in Minneapolis.

In other words it's a little like clothes. If you live in a climate where it's always spring-coat weather or warmer, you're not going to invest in a fur-lined coat because you don't need it. And if you live where the cold blows over Niagara Falls in icicles, well, you'll dress accordingly.

Q. Is the lower insurance rate for electrically heated houses generally available?

A. At last word, this applies only in Pennsylvania, which took the pioneer step. One would hope, of course, that other states follow suit. The reasons couldn't be better; "electrically heated houses have proven themselves safer houses."

Q. Will the same unit both heat and cool a house? We want both electric heat and air conditioning.

A. In your area you'll find that separate equipment for each is considered your best bet, with electric baseboards and invisible ceiling cable the most popular heating equipment types. The heavy housepower wiring that's done in conjunction with your heating installation, however, takes care of your air conditioner's needs also . . . so you're ahead in one way after all.

Obituaries

Mrs. Emma P. Lahiere, 53, of Rosedale Road, died April 12 in the University of Pennsylvania Hospital.

She was the wife of John Lahiere. A lifelong Princeton resident, she was a member of St. Paul's Church. Also surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Carl Eisenmann of Kingston; her father, Antonio Petrone of Princeton, three sisters, Mrs. Anna Elias of Trenton, Mrs. Edith Benedetti and Mrs. Sylvia Marcus of Princeton; five brothers, Carmen of Princeton, Victor and Albert of Florida, Anthony of Hazlet and Frederick of Monmouth Junction, and two grandchildren.

Requiem mass will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. Monday in St. Paul's Church. Interment will be held 10 a.m. this Thursday in St. Paul's Cemetery under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Mrs. Helen W. Singleton, 47, of Portland, Conn., formerly of Princeton, died April 7. She was the wife of Dr. Robert H. Singleton, a member of the faculty of Wesleyan University.

Mrs. Singleton was born in Princeton and had lived here until four years ago.

Also surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Ronald Womer of Trenton; a son, David R. Singleton in Africa; her father Frank L. Warren of Pennington; a sister, Mrs. Melvin Olsen of Phoenix, Ariz., and a grandchild.

The service was held at the Mather Funeral Home, the Rev. Charles G. Newberry of All Saints' Chapel officiating. Interment was at the convenience of the family.

Thomas H. Sawyer, 65, died April 8 at his home, 70 East Bridge Street, Morrisville. He operated a general store in Pennington for 35 years.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Emmett J. Walsh of Trenton; a brother Vincent W. Sawyer of Morrisville, and a niece and four nephews.

Requiem high mass was celebrated in Holy Trinity Church, Morrisville. Interment was in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Armistead I. Robinson, 85, of Lincoln Highway, died April 7. Born in Virginia, he was the husband of Mrs. Josephine A. Robinson.

Also surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Sarah L. Pemberton, and a son, Armistead I. Robinson Jr., both of Princeton, and nieces and nephews.

The service was held in Amelia County, Va., with local arrangements by the Hughes Funeral Home.

Raymond B. Alpaugh, formerly of 106 E. Delaware Avenue, Pennington, died April 8 at his home in Jacksonville, Fla. He was the husband of Mrs. Belle C. Alpaugh.

Mr. Alpaugh, a former associate of the L. C. Alpaugh and Sons Coal Company, was born in Trenton. He attended the Rider-Moore Business College and was a veteran of World War I.

Also surviving are three sons, James E. of Pennington, William C. of Jacksonville and J. Thomas of Yardville Heights; two daughters, Mrs. Warren

Larry Golden bowled a 230 and other high scorers included Bill Dumble, 206, and Joe Trani and Bill Kiefer, each with 201.

Bear Brook held an eight-point lead, 54-46, over the Reformers in the Nassau League with Thorne Pharmacy a point further back in third place. Grover Lumber, with 43 points, was in the fourth position with only six points separating the remaining eight teams.

Dick Traegler won scoring honors by rolling a 234 game. He was followed by Dick Fowler, 224; Charles Perpetua, 204; and Bill Whaley, 203.

Jefferson Plumbing shared the Business Woman's League lead with Claridge Wine and Liquor as each team finished the week's play with 42 points. Smith Bindery was the runner-up, five points off the pace.

Carole Harris was the high scorer by four pins. She bowled a 186 game to 182 for Janet Groover and 181 for Johnnie Irvin. Marie Piper had a 175 score, Diane Fowler 173 and Lillian Burrough 170.

A half-dozen bowlers had games that surpassed the 200 level as Dutch Neck moved to a four point lead in the Tri-County Firemen's League. The leaders had 48 points for Mercer Number 3 and Kingston.

The top individual was Ken Luck with a high game of 246 and the outstanding series, 618. Bill Whaley was the runner up with a 217 game followed by Ray Mount, 214; Al Kren, 211 and 209; Tom Johnson, 211; and Les Luck, 204.

Pete and Mike's were making a run away of the "B" League as the leaders increased their margin to 34 points. The first place team had a total of 62 points to 48 for Smith Bindery and Balestrieri.

Bill Parke was the high scorer with a 231 contest. Other 200 or better scorers were Frank Delneso, 212; Jim Kah-

HUN NINE VS. GEORGE
On Wednesday, following the break for Easter vacation, the Hun School baseball team will play the second of a 12-game schedule Wednesday at 2:30 when it hosts George School. The Red and Black was scheduled to open its 1965 season this Wednesday opposite Perkiomen at Pennsburg, Pa.

Hun will be led by a new coach, Former assistant John Talbot has taken over the reins from Sandford Bing, who relinquished all coaching duties after being named the new academic dean at Hun. Before coming to Hun, Talbot was baseball coach for three years at Perkiomen. He will be assisted by Spofard "Cap" Woodruff, former coach at Tabor Academy, Marlton, Mass., who did his playing at Amherst.

Talbot reported he is "optimistic" about Hun's chances of improving last year's 7-3 record. "We have a veteran team," he said. "Moreover," he continued, "we've got a lot of depth, particularly in pitching. In fact, I don't think we will ask any one of our pitchers to complete a single game. We plan to split it."

Heading the pitching staff are two veteran seniors, who, in addition to being capable hurlers, are outstanding hitters. They are Chris Westover and Scott Page.

Westover won four of Hun's seven games and was charged with three defeats. A 400 hitter, he led the team last year in RBI's.

Page, an outstanding athlete in both football and baseball as well, also slugged the ball near the 400 mark. Both will play afield when not pitching. Westover at first base and Page probably as catcher—a new position for him.

Beauty ON THE SQUARE

By Archimedes (Bernard)

During the last ten years hair coloring has experienced a phenomenal growth and acceptance. From the fashionable pastels to the rich, warm basic colors — all must be considered as an essential part of styling to achieve artistic triumphs.

Today, hair coloring has taken its place with face make-up, not only to cover unwanted grey hair, but to enhance and beautify.

The accomplished hairdresser has learned that the right hair color on the patron (according to skin tone, eyes and personality) cannot be divorced from his planned coiff — and the style should be planned with the color in mind at all times.

Any and all hair problems can be beautifully solved at TAYBENWOOD BEAUTY MANOR AND COSMETIC SHOP, 69 Palmer Square West, Princeton. Make your appointment today by calling 924-3983.

A WEEK TO REGISTER
For June Primary. The deadline for voter registration for June's primary elections in the Borough and Township is Thursday, April 22.

Residents who have not voted in the last two primaries will not be permitted to vote unless they register. The registration will be held in the respective clerk's offices in Borough Hall and Township Hall.

One must be 21 years of age, a citizen and a resident of the state for six months and of the county for 40 days to be eligible to vote. Registrants will be asked to designate the party to which they prefer to belong.

CAN I GO, MOM?
Scouts Plan Hikes. Roy Scout Troop 56, St. Paul's, will make an overnight hike to Bass River April 24 and 25, following that excursion with a one-day hike on May 8.

The Scouts will make another overnight hike along the Appalachian Trail in Stokes State Forest on May 22 and 23, and will take a one-day march on June 5.

On June 25-27, the Troop will take a canoe trip along the Delaware and Raritan Canal rounding out their spring-summer agenda with the annual camping trip to Camp Pahaquerra on the Delaware, July 25 to August 1.

William Gagen, Scoutmaster, invites any boy 11 years or older, to join the Troop.

100TH BIRTHDAY FOR YW
To Observe Centennial Week. The Princeton YWCA will participate in the organization's centennial week celebration beginning Monday.

The area association has scheduled a variety of events and will seek to encourage residents of the community to join. Some 1,000 communities in the United States are taking part in the week-long program.

The YWCA is publicizing the various services and activities it conducts with a Thursday morning radio spot on WHWH's Betty Gates Show. The program is heard at 9:45 a.m.

For the ninth consecutive year, the YW will conduct a summer camp for girls between the ages of 6 and 13. Two-week sessions will begin on July 2 and continue through August 13.

Campers will be placed in groups of 10, according to age and will participate in various special instruction programs such as arts and crafts and music. Registration is now being accepted at the YWCA office. Those wishing further information may call Mrs. Janet R. Humes at 924-4825.

AWARDS PRESENTED

To Scout Troop 50 Members.
A first class rank was presented to six members of Boy Scout Troop 50 and one member was awarded the star rank. Steven Fishbein received the star ranking and first class awards went to David Ross, Gary Borkan, Harry De Young, Ross Bayer, Arthur O'Connor and Robert Bayer. Receiving second class ranking were Nicholas Benson, Gibby Weisbecker and Christopher Lane.

Merit Badges were presented to Doug Houghton, Steven Fishbein, Robert Spears, Leslie Reich, Paul Flisbeck, Michael Reich and Jerry Steele.

SPRING TERM UNDERWAY
For Canal Art Workshops. The Studio-on-the-Canal will open its spring term of art workshops this week.

The program will continue through June 12 and will include a children's class combining both painting and ceramic — sculpture instruction. Students may register for either class.

Conducted by Rex Goreleigh, the workshops stress individuality and originality. Monday evening will be devoted to sketch group and Hughie Lee-Smith will instruct a landscape class on Tuesday afternoons.

DRIVE BEGUN
For Library Membership. The Lawrenceville Community Library has begun its annual membership drive to enlist the support of families in Lawrence Township.

The library lost its headquarters and many books through fire and is seeking $1 membership donations. Volunteers will be making house-to-house visits and residents are also urged to send their contribution to the library by mail if they are not contacted.

The library is now housed in a trailer on loan from the Lawrence Jaycees. It is located on the corner of Main Street and Craven Lane and is open weekdays from 2 to 4 and on Saturday from 11 to noon.

DRIVE RENEWED
For Appalachia Clothing. With the help of the Save the Children Federation, students at the Valley Road and Community Park Schools are renewing their campaign to collect clothing for the depressed Appalachian area.

Last year, more than 5,000 books were sent to pupils of the Hindman Settlement School and the Leslie County Board of Education in Kentucky as well as to the Mandaree Indian School in Newtown, S.D. The clothing will be shipped by the Save the Children Federation, a non-profit organization.

The drive, conducted by the student councils of both schools, will terminate this week. After the Easter recess, the students will begin a second book drive for Appalachian schools.

"DAUGHTERS" TO MEET
For Dinner-dance. Daughters of Scotia and their escorts will gather on Saturday in the Prince William Room, Nassau Inn, for their annual dinner-dance. The time is 6:30. Reservations and additional information may be obtained from Mrs. John Stewart, 921-8818.

News Of The CHURCHES

TO STUDY REPORTS

On Presbyterian Needs. The Princeton Presbyterian Commission, dormant for more than a year, has been revived at a planning session held at the Peacock Inn. Leonard F. Newton of Witherspoon Church, continues as chairman.

Originally composed of three laymen and clergy from each of the three Presbyterian Churches in Princeton, the Commission has added 18 members. Six areas of study were outlined on Sunday and research committees appointed.

"The main motive now," the Rev. Dr. Donald M. Meisel of First Church said later, "is to find out what we can do better together than singly."

Opportunities. The Commission, in effect, picks up where it left off on November 11, 1963. At that time, the Commission presented a report to the sessions of the churches, stating in the preamble "The Commission has become aware of the larger task that faces Princeton Presbyterians and the inadequacy of their present response. We are maintaining three separate Presbyterian churches in a situation which leads to competitiveness and overlapping of effort. The outreach of the Church is blunted and the needs of Presbyterians and of the community are being only partly met."

The Commission was originally activated to study the question of St. Andrew's (then Second Church) relocation on Pretty Brook Road and the expansion needs of Witherspoon Church. Its growing awareness of over-all needs, led it to recommend that the three Presbyterian churches unite as one corporation, one congregation, with one session and one moderator. Lacking endorsement by the First Church session, the resolution went into the files, and the Commission subsided.

Since then, the three churches have held joint meetings of the women's associations, Lenten dinners and co-operated in other ways. The Commission itself began to be re-activated in January, according to Dr. Meisel.

Study Units. The six areas now under study are Christian education, evangelism and pastoral calling, social action, women's work, men's work and planning development. Committee reports will be presented to the Commission at April 25, May 9 and May 23.

Members of the core group, functioning as the executive committee, are the Rev. Dr. Meisel, Rev. John Paterson, Dr. Arthur Link, William Speers and Ernest F. Johnson, all of First Church; the Rev. F. Hugh Liffiton, Charles Highberger, James Rowan and Mrs. Mary A. Riker, all of St. Andrew's; John Counts, Mrs. Simeon Moss and Mr. Newton, Witherspoon Church.

JOINING FORCES: "We can do things together we can't do apart," says Leonard F. Newton, Chairman of the re-activated Princeton Commission. Story this page.

Also serving are John R. Yost, Mrs. Esther Roberts, Mrs. Walter Wagoner, Mrs. Helen Jones, Gerald Speedy and Raymond Bowers, all of First Church; Robert McGilvra, Mrs. Joseph Thomas, Fred Petke, Mrs. Rose Cortelyou and Ralph Bloom, Jr., St. Andrew's; Miss Fay Dickerson, Mrs. James Nichols, Simeon Moss, Mrs. Gertrude Biggs, Dean Tucker and Howard Waxwood II, all of Witherspoon.

Dr. Meisel; 12:30 p.m. Communion in Niles Chapel, the Rev. Dr. Arlo D. Duba.

Passover Begins

The major Jewish festival of Passover, commemorating the escape of the Israelites from Egypt more than 2,000 years ago, begins at sundown on Friday, Rabbi Everett Gender will conduct an informal, half-hour service at 5:45 p.m. at the Jewish Center of Princeton.

The eight-day holiday begins in Jewish homes with the ritual meal called the Seder, meaning "order." On the table are foods that serve as symbolic reminders of the Exodus. One of these is matzoh, or unleavened bread, a reminder of the haste in which the Israelites fled.

The Passover festival symbolizes religious freedom and reaffirms the right of all to equal treatment. Services at the Center will also be held at 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. on Saturday, at 10 a.m. Sunday and on Thursday and Friday of next week.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian. Thurs., 8 p.m., Holy Communion (family supper at 7 p.m.); Easter Sun., 9:30 & 11 a.m., worship, "And the Life Everlasting," the Rev. F. Hugh Liffiton.

Calvary Baptist. Thurs., 8 p.m., Lord's Supper & Teanebrae observed with First Baptist at Calvary; Sun., 11 a.m., worship, the Rev. Kenneth Dannenhauer.

First Baptist. Thurs., joint service with Calvary Baptist; Sun., 11 a.m. worship service, the Rev. Edward Smith.

Princeton Baptist. Thurs., 8 p.m., Communion, "The Solitude of the Saviour," the Rev. Walter Carvin; Sun., 11 a.m., worship, "The Lord of Life," Rev. Mr. Carvin.

Westerly Road. Thurs., 8 p.m., Lord's Supper, "Our Suffering Savior," the Rev. Edward H. Morgan; Sun., 11 a.m., worship, "Risen Indeed," the Rev. Mr. Morgan, 7:30 p.m. evening worship, "Resurrection Power," the Rev. Mr. Morgan.

Lutheran Church of the Messiah. Thurs, 8 p.m. Holy Communion; Fri. 11 a.m. children's service, 8 p.m. Teanebrae; Sun. 6:30 a.m. Dawn Service, 9:30 a.m. children's service, 11 a.m. Easter Festival service.

Princeton Methodist. Thurs., 8 p.m., Lord's Supper; Fri. noon-3 p.m. meditation (1-2 p.m. Holy Communion, "Pilate Before Christ," the Rev. Dr. Leon G. Gibson); Easter, 11 a.m. worship "Jesus Goes Fishing," Dr. Gibson; junior choir will sing "Risen On Easter Day."

Rosedale Chapel. Easter Sun. 11 a.m., worship, "The Resurrection," the Rev. S. S. Rizzo.

Unitarian. Easter Sun. 11 a.m. worship, "The Easter Egg and I," the Rev. Dr. Robert Cope.

Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. Fri., 8 p.m., "Seven Last Words," the Rev. Albert Tyson, special choir music; Easter Sun., 9 a.m. worship, the Rev. G. Howard Hunt, 11 a.m. worship, Rev. Mr. Tyson.

Kingston Presbyterian. Thurs. 8 p.m. worship service, the Rev. C. K. Brixey; Fri. 12-3 p.m. joint services at Community Church of the Sand Hills; Easter Sun., 8:30 & 11 a.m., services, "Too Good To Be True," the Rev. Mr. Brixey.

CHAPLAIN TO PREACH At Dawn Service. The Rev. Ian MacIntosh, Protestant chaplain at Princeton Hospital, will conduct the Easter Dawn Service for the Princeton Community this Sunday at Battlefield Park. Worship begins at 5:30 a.m., preceded by morning watch at 5:15 a.m.

Also taking part are four members of church youth groups: Bernice Yeager, Beth Maxwell, Arthur Buckland and Laurie Bain. A brass quartet will provide the music.

A continental breakfast will be held at the YMCA at 6:30 a.m. In the event of rain, the service will be held at the Y.

The service has been arranged by Princeton church youth and the Princeton YMCA. Committee members are: Arthur Buckland, chairman; Beth Maxwell, secretary; Susan Male, music; Sharon Camp-

"WITH PALM BRANCHES IN THEIR HANDS:" Two young members of the Palm Sunday procession at St. Paul's Church pause in the church garden; Bernadette Cenerino (left), 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Cenerino of 492 N. BULLETIN NOTES

Scholar. Hans-Joachim Kraus, Old Testament scholar at the University of Hamburg, will deliver the first of six public lectures at 2:45 p.m. Monday in Miller Chapel, Princeton Seminary. His topic is "The Law of the Lord in the Post-Exilic Era." He will lecture each evening Monday through Thursday next week and at 2 p.m. on Tuesday.

Easter Breakfast. The Ladies' Guild of First Baptist Church will sponsor an Easter Sunrise Service breakfast from 7 to 10 a.m. this Sunday at the church, John and Green Streets. Donation is $1.

Hopewell Services. The Hopewell Council of Churches is sponsoring an Easter Dawn service, beginning at 5:30 a.m. in Highland Cemetery. Breakfast at the Hopewell Methodist Church follows the service. The Good Friday service for the community is scheduled from 12 to 1 in the Methodist Church.

ADULT SERIES SET

At Trinity Church. Three adult study courses will be held at Trinity Church from April 20 to May 26. All interested residents are welcome.

On Tuesdays, "The University-Focus of Our Contemporary World" will be offered by David P. Billington and Richard K. Toner of the Princeton University faculty, and the Rev. Rowland J. Cox, Episcopal chaplain, "The Hymnal Outings the Ages," a study of hymnology and the history of the hymnal, will be led by Robert Hoobs, Trinity organist, on Wednesday evenings. Also on Wednesday is "Our Response to Our Calling-Worship," centering on the history and meaning of Christian worship.

Church, Beacon, N. Y.

Class hours are from 8:15 to 9:45 p.m. The cost is $5 per person, per course.

ENCHANTMENT EVERYWHERE

It's just possible that this house is not QUITE as enchanting as we find it — Perhaps it's the grounds which really weave the spell — but we don't think so. In any case, it's a virtually perfect mating of house and land.

Built (and well too) into a hillside, the spile and span masonry house is beautifully designed for both summer and winter living. On the upper level is a large, handsome, somewhat formal living room with fireplace, opening on the south side to a cozy, sunny terrace. Both living and dining rooms open on a screened porch with a long view across wild-life-attracting natural growth through which nary a neighboring roof can be seen. Marvelous for cool summer entertaining, eating or even sleeping! Two delightful bedrooms, fine bath, big pantry and appealing kitchen round out the upper floor.

Below, another bedroom and bath adjoin a wonderful big informal living room, also with fireplace and doors out, this time to a roomy northern terrace. Completing the lower level are lavatory, utility-heater room and versatile entrance hall which doubles as flower-bar-laundry room. Charming touches are everywhere, as are sunshine, light and, happily, closets!

To those grounds — here is a lovely blending of fairly formal landscaping, innumerable attractive trees and shrubs and the unspoiled naturalness that gives a real country feeling. A gnarled wisteria entwined around the stately stump of an old apple tree on the edge of the "wilderness" is a unique highlight! All this with a superb West End location and low taxes. JUST PASSING THROUGH

Here's a newly available Princeton Township house that won't wait long for you in today's competitive market. From the dramatic two-story living room to the fourth double bedroom, there's not a room in the house measuring less than 17 feet in one dimension. The master bedroom is on the ground floor with its own bath. The other three open off an upstairs balcony and share two full baths. The study is paneled in walnut-stained pine and has an adjoining screened porch. The kitchen is fully equipped. Basement, two-car garage, and huge closets for storage. Lovely lot with trees and brook. Nothing wrong with this one, we promise you, at

CONVERSATION PIECE

Everyone's talking about Westwood Square. Rightly so. In all of Trenton, only Westwood Square gives you an elegant home - on a spacious lot - in an established community.

You enjoy these extra features -
Garage, fireplace, top-grade vinyl floors, full basement, beautiful tile, aluminum casement windows, a complete quality point job, deluxe oven, range and dishwashers - at no extra cost.

Your children romp on a huge 125'x150' lot in a peaceful, private area surrounded by estates and golf courses. Yet, with such serenity, you're only 3/10ths of a mile from the highway and just 10 minutes from Trenton.

Indeed, Westwood Square is truly something to talk about... and certainly something to see. Come, visit the model homes this weekend.

Sample homes open every day 10:00 a.m. 'til 6:00 p.m. 663-3334

WESTWOOD SQUARE Westwood drive North, Off Bear Tavern Road in Ewing Township.
DIRECTION: From Princeton: Take Rte. 206 South (Princeton - Lawrenceville Rd.), to Franklin Corner Rd. (First stop-light at end of Lawrenceville School). Turn right onto Pennington-Lawrenceville Rd. and follow signs to Washington Crossing Rd. to Bear Tavern Rd. Make left turn onto Bear Tavern Rd. to Mercer County's Mountain View Golf Course. SMALL HORSE FARM

$36,000

A most unusual and unique offer is this 6.9 acre horse farm. Everything is practically new — the spacious three bedroom ranch, the large 30' x 45' barn with eight stalls and the fencing surrounding the rolling pastures. Among the many added features are the carpeting in the house, extra large rooms and two wells, one for the house and one for the barn. An outstanding offer for anyone with a love of horses. Additional details upon request.

FINE HOME . . . in one of our pleasant neighboring communities. Attractive view of fields and woods. This is a property which has been cherished, and beautifully maintained, by its present owners. Living room with fireplace, playroom, 3 bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths. And when Summer comes (as it will), you'll be delighted with the large, cool screened porch. $23,500

UNUSUAL . . . and a most livable home, too. On one of the Township's loveliest lots, filled with large trees and bordered on two sides by a brook. Large living room with fireplace, separate dining room, cheerful kitchen, 4 bedrooms, playroom, 2 baths, completely air-conditioned. Newly painted indoors & outdoors. (Sole Agent) $38,500

RIVERSIDE . . . here is a brand new Colonial home with 4 bedrooms 2 baths and powder room. Living room with fireplace, separate dining room, family room, a dream of a kitchen, and a large (12x20) covered porch where you can sit and enjoy your garden. Located in one of our most inviting wooded areas, in a neighborhood of fine Colonial homes. $51,500

RENTAL . . . 2 story Colonial in a Township neighborhood with lots of trees, close to schools and Shopping Center. Living room, dining room, large kitchen, 3 bedrooms, 1 bath . . . plus (in the attic) an insulated extra room. $225

RENTAL . . . available at once — unfurnished apartment in the Township. Living room, kitchen, one bedroom, bath and garage. Heat, water, gas and electricity included. $130

LAWRENCEVILLE . . . a comfortable and substantial old home in a charming community. Only one block from the N. Y. Express bus. Hall, large living room with fireplace, enclosed sun porch, dining room, kitchen with breakfast area and powder room on first floor. Second floor: 3 bedrooms, 1 large tiled bath. Partially air-conditioned. $26,000

WESTERN SECTION . . . in a particularly fortunate location, where you can enjoy your privacy — and a view, too! The house is notable for its large rooms and an exceptionally livable layout. All on one floor, there is an entrance hall, a large living room, dining room with fireplace, master bedroom with fireplace and bath, 3 other bedrooms and bath, and maid's room & bath. Outdoors, the professional landscaping, and the beautiful garden, designed around a lily pond, enhance the desirability of the location. This is an unusually fine property in one of Princeton's most beautiful neighborhoods. $85,000

BUILDING LOT . . . here is an opportunity not often available in Princeton Township — woods, 1 1/2 acres, city water and sewer, ready for your architect to begin drawing plans. (Sole Agent) $19,500

FOR GRACIOUS LIVING

PRINCETON VIEW ESTATES, a new community of fine homes, invites you to inspect the houses presently under construction. This is the most desirable site one can imagine — located only a few minutes drive from Princeton, the gently rolling countryside providing a marvelous view, and bordering on one of the loveliest country clubs in central New Jersey.

Pictured is artist's sketch of the next house to be constructed at Princeton View. It will be located on a high rolling lot overlooking the country club and offers spacious living with four large bedrooms, sewing room, 2½ baths, entrance foyer, living room with fireplace, kitchen, family room with barbeque-fireplace feature and mud room.

$42,500

DIRECTIONS: Take Route 206 north from Princeton to the traffic light at the intersection of Route 518. Turn left, go 1¼ miles to Pine Brae Drive and turn left into Princeton View Estates.

Representative on the premises all day Saturday and Sunday, and can be reached daily from 8 AM to 6 PM at 609-448-4300.
